FUEL PRICE NEARS ALL-TIME HIGH AS OIL COS HIKE RATES

Petrol price was hiked by 26 paise a litre and diesel by 25 paise, according to a price notification from oil marketing companies

INCREASE IN TANDEM WITH CRUDE OIL PRICES

The price change was effected by state-owned fuel retailers after a rise in crude prices. Brent crude rose to $53.94 a barrel on Wednesday on the back of Saudi Arabia's decision to cut daily production by 1 million barrels. The highest petrol price in India was recorded on October 4, 2018 when one litre cost ₹91.34 in Mumbai. At that time, Brent was trading at $85.45

IMPACT ON INDIA'S IMPORT BILL

- To cool prices, the government had in 2018 cut excise duty
- According to reports, every dollar per barrel increase in crude prices will raise India's oil import bill by ₹10,700 crore
- Industry data show that US crude stockpiles fell last week, which further aided the surge in crude prices in the international market

ORIGIN TRACING

WHO rebukes China over blocking virus probe team

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

MONTHS after grandstanding at the World Health Organization, saying it was ready allow an expert team to probe the origins of the deadly coronavirus, China denied them entry, drawing a rare rebuke from WHO chief Dr Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus.

Better known as China's poodle, Tedros said, "Today, we learned that Chinese officials have not yet finalised the necessary permissions for the team's arrival in China. I'm very disappointed with this news, given that two members had already begun their journeys and others were not able to travel at the last minute, but had been in contact with senior Chinese officials."

In what was seen as sharp line, given his pro-China leaning, Tedros said he had 'made it clear' that the mission was a priority for the WHO. Tedros had last year failed to take China to task for delayed reporting of the outbreak and kept dragging his feet on declaring it a pandemic, drawing international ridicule.

The virus has since infected over 85 million people worldwide and killed close to 2 million. A 10-member team of experts from Japan, Qatar, Germany, Vietnam, Russia, Denmark, the Netherlands, Australia, the UK and the US was to travel to Wuhan, the epicentre of Covid-19. Since origin-tracing is complicated business, a crack team was put together for the task.

Later, an embarrassed China acknowledged that there could be some misunderstanding over granting timely permission to WHO's experts, but gave no indication about when it will allow them in.

Jobs are back as K'taka economy rebounds

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

WITH the economy bouncing back after months of slowdown, the job scene seems to be looking up, both in the private as well as government sectors. With employers getting more work, they are looking to hire more staff.

After the lockdown was imposed in March 2020, scores of people lost their jobs and with many businesses shut, employers could not make any fresh hiring. The economic slowdown, triggered by the Covid-19 pandemic and lockdown, had forced the government as well as private sectors to freeze recruitment till September. Except for essential medical services, all other government appointments had been put on hold. But the tide seems to be turning over the past few weeks with government agencies as well as private businesses looking to hire more employees.

Many government departments, including the Women and Child Development, Energy and Public Works Departments, the Karnataka Power Transmission Corporation Ltd (KPTCL) and a few others have invited applications for various posts. Recently, Deputy CM and PWD Minister Govind Karjol had said they are taking steps to recruit 950 junior engineers on contract basis through agencies. The KPTCL has called for applications from engineering graduates for 125 posts of apprentices. Sources in the CMO said the overall situation is stabilising and applications for lowers posts are being called, most of it on contract basis.

In the private sector, the demand for unskilled and skilled labour in the construction sector, automobile and manufacturing industries is increasing.

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE board exams for II Pre-University Course (PUC II) will be held in the second week of May and for the Secondary School Leaving Certificate (SSLC) in the first week of June, Primary and Secondary Education Minister S Suresh Kumar announced on Wednesday.

Earlier, in view of the Covid-19 situation, Minister S Suresh Kumar had announced that the SSLC and PUC 2021 examinations will not be conducted in March. "The exams will be held in the month of May and June for PUC and SSLC students, respectively" a release from the minister said. CONTINUED ON: P2

Warnock

Ossoff

DEMOCRAT 49 — 51 NEEDED FOR CONTROL — REPUBLICAN 50

Warnock wins, Ossoff leads in runoff race; with House of Representatives already in his grip, Biden can push challenging legislative agenda easily

Dems set to control Senate too

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

The Democratic Party is on course to taking control of the Senate, which is crucial for United States President-elect Joe Biden to push his legislative agenda, with the Georgia elections tipping the balance in the party's favour.

Major US media outlets have already declared Pastor Raphael Warnock as the winner, while fellow Democrat Jon Ossoff is comfortably leading in the second seat over Republican Senator David Perdue.

Warnock beat Republican Senator Kelly Loeffler to become the first African-American to represent Georgia — a slavery state in the US Civil War — in the US Senate. He is also the first Democrat to win the Senate race from Georgia in over 20 years.

The election in Georgia is being rerun thanks to the state's rule that a candidate must take 50% of the vote to win. In the November 2020 general election, none of the candidates could meet that threshold.

As things stand now, Democrats would need to take both the seats in Georgia to gain full control of Congress, while the Republicans need to win just one to retain the Senate.

Ossoff has declared victory but no major news outlet has projected him as the winner.

With the result of the Perdue versus Ossoff yet to be called in, the 100-member Senate now has 50 seats for the Republican Party and 49 for the Democrats.

At the time of going to press, Ossoff had secured 22,13,099 votes, over 17,500 more than Perdue. If elected, 33-year-old Ossoff will be the youngest member in the US Senate.

If both Republicans and the Democrats end up having 50 seats each in the Senate, then Vice President-elect Kamala Harris, in her capacity as the Vice Chairman who presides over the Senate meetings, can cast the crucial vote in favour of the Democrats.

Gaining control of the Senate will help Biden in what he intends to do as President with his party being in a comfortable position to set the legislative agenda.

They will be able to have their say in Senate committees, call hearings, and decide which items get top priority.

It will also help them push through the ambitious proposals addressing climate change and health care.

KEY QUESTIONS

Why the runoff?
Georgia rules mandate that the winning candidate gets at least 50% of the votes polled, which did not happen in the November polls

What is the situation now?
Democrats are coursing towards creating a 50-50 tie with Republicans in the Senate, picking up one seat and leading in another

Which party stands to gain?
Democrats of course, since Vice President-elect Kamala Harris would hold the tie-breaking vote in the Senate

Since when will the Senate be in Democrats' control?
The Senate will be in Democrats' control for the first time since 2014

What does it mean for President-elect Joe Biden?
The Senate win will help him carry out his early legislative agenda since the House of Representatives is already in Democrats' pocket

What does it mean for Trump?
He is already being blamed by Republicans for mess up, as he kept peddling baseless claims that Georgia's electoral systems were rigged, turning off the voters

No stay on anti-love jihad law, but SC to examine it

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday refused to stay new laws introduced in Uttar Pradesh and Uttarakhand to punish interfaith marriages based on religious conversion, but agreed to examine them.

A bench headed by Chief Justice of India S A Bobde issued notices to both state governments on petitions challenging the love jihad ordinance in Uttar Pradesh and the Freedom of Religion Act, 2018 in Uttarakhand. The court also issued notice to the Centre on two petitions filed by advocate Vishal Thakre and Teesta Setalvad's NGO Citizens for Justice and Peace.

Thakre's PIL said, "The Ordinance passed by the State of Uttar Pradesh and law passed by Uttarakhand are against the public policy and society at large and violates basic structure of the Constitution."

Senior advocate C U Singh, who appeared for Setalvad's NGO, sought a stay on the UP ordinance, saying "Rampaging mobs are moving around lifting people from marriage ceremonies. This ordinance requires prior reporting of marriages and the burden of proof is on the individual."

@ Basavakalyan

THE Anubhava Mantapa, conceived originally by 12th century social reformer Basavanna, will spring back to life again with Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa laying the foundation stone for it on Wednesday.

When completed in about two years' time, the Anubhava Mantapa will have will have state-0f-the-art robotics system, air-conditioning using natural resources, a tower resembling a Shiva Linga on top of the building, a Dasoha Bhavan, a themed terrace garden, levitating statues and an open air theatre among other facilities. The structure will come up on 7.5 acres of land and the construction is estimated to cost Rs 500 crore.

Laying the foundation stone, the CM said the day will be etched in the annals of history as it marks the commencement of work on the new Anubhava Mantap. The construction will be completed within two years and Prime Minister Narendra Modi will be invited to inaugurate it. In the coming days, the government will release Rs 100 crore for the purpose, the CM announced. The task of supervising the work has been entrusted to the senior BJP leader Basavaraj Patil Sedam. P4

UP horror: Woman raped, killed in temple

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THE badlands of western Uttar Pradesh saw yet another gangrape and murder, this time of a 50-year-old anganwadi worker in Badaun district, with horrific brutalities perpetrated on her in a reminder of the Nirbhaya case.

The woman was allegedly raped and brutalised within a temple premises by three men, including the priest, and left to die outside her house on Sunday. While the priest, Baba Satyanarayan Das, is on the run, the other two perpetrators — Ved Ram and Yashpal — have been arrested. The incident was reported from a village in the Ughaiti police station area in Badaun.

The victim's post-mortem examination revealed grievous injuries in her private parts. Her left ribs and a leg were also broken while one lung had ruptured as it was apparently hit with a heavy object. A rod was inserted into her private parts causing fatal damage to her internal organs. The autopsy said the woman died due to excessive bleeding.

The villagers and the victim's family alleged SHO Ravindra Pratap Singh did not reach the spot even after a complaint was lodged. Initial investigation revealed the victim's body was sent for post-mortem on Monday afternoon, 18 hours after the incident.

UP Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath has ordered an inquiry into the incident by the Special Task Force of UP Police and directed the ADG of Bareilly zone to submit a detailed report. SHO Singh has been suspended.

Four teams have been formed to nab the priest and a bounty of ₹50,000 has been announced on his arrest.

The 50-year-old woman, who had gone to a temple on Sunday, was found dead under mysterious circumstances. Family members have accused the temple priest and his accomplices of raping and murdering her

Producers look at OTT platforms for Kannada stars

A SHARADHAA @Bengaluru

ARE producers of Kannada films with big stars planning to take a digital leap? As the lights seem to be going out on theatre releases with cinemas operating only at 50 per cent capacity due to the pandemic, the demand by theatre owners, and other problems, the producers may go Over-The-Top (OTT).

Some producers who met at a private hotel on Wednesday are looking at the OTT platforms as an option, which was one of the highlights of their discussions. Producers including Vijay Kiragandur, KP Srikanth, Jayanna, Surappa Babu, B K Gangadhar, Manjunath Gowda, Umapathy S and Karthik Gowda were among those present.

The producers are more worried that the theatre owners are demanding to abolish the earlier trade policy of just rentals and instead wanting a percentage share in the collections. This, however, is not acceptable to the producers. "The current demand of the theatre owners on having a percentage share will eat into the collections. We are okay to release the films as per the earlier norm," said one of the producers who was present at the meeting.

"With the crisis we are facing, we won't be able to meet the theatre owners' demand. So we have no option but to head to streaming platforms, who are ready to pay a good amount to have star films," he said.

Currently, the films that are getting ready for release this year are Darshan's Roberrt, produced by Umapathy, Puneeth Rajkumar's Yuvarathnaa, and Yash starrer, KGF Chapter 2 produced by Vijay Kiragandur among others. CONTINUED ON: P7

Digilocker to be put on fast track, three committees to drive project

Deputy CM says Karnataka lagging in uploading documents to depository

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA will soon speed up the process of uploading academic records of students to the National Academic Depository (NAD). Announcing that the state is lagging in implementing the digilocker system and has so far achieved little progress, Deputy Chief Minister Dr C N Ashwath Narayana said, "Three committees have been formed to implement this."

At a meeting on Wednesday, Narayana said three committees -- empowered committee, steering committee and project management unit -- have been entrusted to ensure implementation at the earliest.

Meanwhile, an empowered group headed by DyCM Narayana will review the project on a quarterly basis. The steering group headed by the principal secretary or secretary for higher education will undertake a monthly review and the project management unit headed by a project director from the Centre for E-Governance, will drive the project at the ground level.

"Uploading of all documents of students, starting from SSLC to post-doctoral to NAD, needs to be completed. This will help students, educational institutions and employers access convocation certificates, mark sheets and skill certificates. This also ensures safe storage, easy retrieval and elimination of fraudulent practices such as unreasonable service fees, faking/forging of certificates and mark sheets," he explained.

Once done, this process will end existing challenges such as having academic records in physical form, mutilation and loss of documents, time-consuming retrieval process, and difficulty in proving authenticity. It is also viewed as a step forward in the 'Digital India' drive.

This process involves academic institutions uploading digitally signed certificates on NAD with students' DigiLocker ID and other details. Students can register via Aadhaar number to claim the certificates, which they can share with employers and other stakeholders by giving the link. The NAD stores digitally signed awards in a standardised format and can be verified after the student gives access.

SAFE RECORD KEEPING

No need for students to apply for certificates
Immediate availability of certificates on uploading by institution
Online, permanent record
No risk of loss, spoilage, damage
Online, quick and reliable verification of certificates
No risk of fake and forged certificates
No need for issuing duplicate certificates

Private schools withdraw protest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Recognised Unaided Private Schools' Association (RUPSA) on Wednesday decided to withdraw its protest against the state government. The association had threatened to suspend online classes if the government did not meet its demands.

However, Primary and Secondary Education Minister Suresh Kumar said the government had met some of RUPSA's demands, following which the association decided to withdraw the protest.

Kumar said that private schools can get their licences renewed in the online mode only, and instructed department officials to ensure that schools do not face any issues with regard to administration issues. The government has granted schools three months' time to ensure that schools get NOCs by the PWD and fire departments, he added.

Meanwhile, the minister promised to look into the demand for financial relief for teachers of private schools too.

Trimmed syllabus soon

KEEPING in mind that the students of these classes shouldn't be overburdened, the Education Department has finalised chapters for each of the subjects and the final syllabus will be sent to schools soon. According to sources, the syllabus has been cut by about 30 per cent for both SSLC and PUC students. "We do not want to overburden the children. We have ensured that there is only limited syllabus for this academic year. The finalised lessons will be sent to the schools," he said.

However, the department decided that there will be no syllabus cut for children of Classes 1 to 9 as the exams for them will be at the school level.

9MM
of rainfall till 5.30pm

The city received showers on Wednesday due to a trough in the Bay of Bengal in Chennai | NAGARAJA GADEKAL

EASTERLY WINDS BRING RAIN TO CITY, WET WEEKEND AHEAD

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

IN just a little over five hours on Wednesday, Bengaluru city recorded 9mm of rain up to 5.30pm, while HAL recorded 4mm rain and the gauge at Kempegowda International Airport reported trace (precipitation too little to be measured).

Rainfall in January is rare, Met department officials said. While it did not rain in Bengaluru last January, the city did record 0.8mm rainfall on January 29, 2019. There was no rain in January in 2018 also. On January 1, 2015, Bengaluru recorded 7.6 mm rain in 24 hours. The highest January rain in Bengaluru was 65.8 mm rainfall, recorded in January 16, 1908.

IMD Director in-charge C S Patil told TNIE that Tuesdays showers were caused by an easterly trough and that rains would continue up to January 10.

Easterly winds are very strong this season and are moving from the Bay of Bengal towards Sri Lanka. Other factors that have caused rain across large parts of the state include a disturbance over the Andhra Pradesh coast, and a trough from north Karnataka that is moving towards Gujarat. An alert has also been sounded for coastal Karnataka where the easterly and westerly winds are colliding, leading to thundershowers.

'Rare' January rain across Karnataka damages crops

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

AFTER heavy downpour in October and November which damaged crops, unseasonal rain in January has now worsened the situation.

Many parts of Karnataka have experienced rain over the past couple of days and are likely to do so until January 10, forecasters say. The worst-affected crops are ragi, rabi jowar, maize, tur, chana, cotton, sunflower, arecanut, coffee and red chilli.

"Crops which were kept for dryinghave been affected. It has been a wretched year. And the government has so far not extended any help and we have little or no hope from them also," Chamarasa Patil, a farmer from north Karnataka.

Farmers say that around 45% of cotton crop, 25% of tur and 60% of red chill crop has already been damaged because of the rain. The colour of maize has started to fade because of the damp weather, due to which its price in the market will drop, farmers say.

"It is the coffee picking and drying season in Coorg, but because of the rainfall, the fruit has started to drop and it has become difficult to dry it. There will be huge losses if the rainfall continues," said D Devaiah, a coffee estate owner from Kodagu.

Mysuru farmers thresh the paddy crop as unseasonal rain lashed the state

Agrometeorologists said the widespread and heavy rainfall across the state in January is a rare phenomenon and has caught farmers by surprise.

Brijesh Kumar Dikshit, Commissioner, Agriculture Department, said the input from farmers is being collected and assessed for losses incurred.

Turf Club is overcrowded, needs hi-tech infra, says report

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

PRESENTLY, the Bangalore Turf Club (BTC) is overcrowded with 887 horses and 600-650 syces on the premises. The available infrastructure is not capable of holding such a number of animals and syces, according to a report submitted to the Karnataka High Court by Capt Dr Ravi Raidurg. Raidurg was nominated as Inspector by the Animal Welfare Board of India (AWBI) under Rule 14 of the Performing Animals (Registration) Rules 2001, following the high court's direction to inspect the premises and submit a report in relation to the allegations made by the petitioner-Compassion Unlimited Plus Action, an NGO.

On the allegations of the petitioner about the poor condition of the stables and tracks, Ravi Raidurg stated in his report that 80 per cent of the stables are over 50 years old.

Temporary measures won't be fruitful in a long run. There is a need for immediate construction of state-of-the-art stables, he said, while noting that the track maintenance is satisfactory. Raidurg inspected the BTC on November 28 and 29. Taking note, a division bench have sought a response from the BTC and AWBI on the recommendations made in the report.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

07th January: There was a time, way back in the past, when the stars were in a very different position from the ones they occupy now. And there will be a time in the distant future when the patterns in the sky will again be unrecognisable. But, then, in four thousand million years the earth won't be here either! I don't think that can get me out of paying my bills though - or you, for that matter!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The fact that professional stars combine very long-term patterns with very short-term cycles means that even little steps you take today can help with major ambitions. However, don't expect instant results, and do be prepared for other people to back out of existing arrangements.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
There is a very pleasant tendency in the air today, stimulated, as ever, by your friend, the Moon. The world will generally be moving in your favour, especially if you are happy to accept whatever turns up. Some people are bound to be in a touchy mood, and liable to over-react, so stay cool.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Your planetary ruler, Mercury, is still making a series of very inspired aspects. These raise the tantalising prospect that you'll make a massive amount money. However, it will be very difficult to distinguish the one genuine opportunity from the ghosts and illusions which cloud your vision.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
There may be a battle for supremacy between your need for security and your desire to break loose, so you may feel deeply unsettled. This could therefore be a very useful point indeed to reconsider the past, take a fresh look at the present and make new plans for the future.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You can and will derive lasting benefit from partners' little games and schemes, even if it doesn't look that way right now. The more you trust them to do what is right, the better the chance that they'll succeed. Rather than simply standing in their way, offer constructive advice.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You should never forget that you are as creative as anyone else. In point of fact, at the moment your artistic potential seems to be rather greater than most other people's, and employers and people in authority forget this at their great cost.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Since the Moon is now aligned with the very heart of your solar chart, you must fulfil all your domestic duties in full! The only way to escape is to give up the lot! Or enrol a team of willing helpers. Keep your sense of humour well to the fore and you'll survive with a smile.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Other people are often surprised when you are able to make up your own mind, and even more stunned when they realise you know what you're talking about. Their misunderstanding may give you the advantage, and you could already be at the finishing post before they've even started.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
You may expect additional costs today. It's almost inevitable that you'll have to deal with money, and it may even be rather exciting if you're able to bring out the latent capitalist within! Plus, a generous gesture may take you closer to your heart's desire.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The Moon's helpful movement has two results. One is that your confidence should be growing. The other is that you're more sensitive. The best conclusion is that you'll be much more forthright about expressing your feelings than you were in the past.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Venus and Mars are irresistible planets so, quite simply, you should be increasingly attractive! Actually, you can sabotage your own good fortune by deliberately refusing to co-operate. You should avoid such self-defeating actions, and help yourself by helping others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
There is nothing you like better than to be left alone to get on and dream. Psychologists tell us it is healthy to fantasise, so don't let anyone put you down or scoff at your colourful ideas. Besides, you might come up with suggestions which will benefit everyone.

Centre warns against fake Co-Win apps

ENS @Bengaluru

FAKE Co-WIN apps have been doing the rounds on PlayStore.

"Some apps named 'CoWIN' apparently created by unscrupulous elements to sound similar to the upcoming official platform of Govt, are on App stores. Don't download or share personal information on these. Dept official platform will be adequately publicised on its launch," the Union Health Ministry tweeted on Wednesday.

Last month, the Centre had announced the Co-WIN platform (COVID Vaccine Intelligence Network) that would be crucial in delivering the vaccine to the public. It had said then that it would launch a mobile app where people could register for the vaccine. The app has not yet been officially released.

Second dry run in all 30 dists of state

This time round, lessons learnt from the previous exercise will be incorporated

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE second countrywide dry run of the immunisation against Covid will held on January 8, and in Karnataka it will be held in 180 sites across all districts of the state.

The first mock vaccine drive was held on January 2 in five districts - Bengaluru, Kalaburagi, Shivamogga, Mysuru and Belagavi. But this time, it will be carried out in 6 centres in each of the state's 30 districts, and will cover district hospitals, medical college hospital (government and private), Urban Primary Health Centres, taluk hospitals, Primary Health Centres, Community Health Centres, and private hospitals.

"The dry run will be held in 5-6 centres per district, with 25 health care workers, that is, beneficiaries, receiving the vaccine. Private facilities with more than 100 beneficiaries will also be roped in this time. Last time during the dry run, we had issues of space, software and network issues in the Co-WIN portal. This time we want to sort that out," said Dr Arundhathi Chandrashekar, Mission Director, National Health Mission (NHM).

The dry run will involve everything except the vaccine itself. The exercise will familiarise health workers with the process which will use existing infrastructure but along with the Co-WIN portal through onto which information about beneficiaries, site details, verification of documents etc will be uploaded. Also, Covid protocol will be in place, and beneficiaries are to be monitored for half an hour for adverse reactions before they leave.

Commissioner for Health and Family Welfare, Pankaj Kumar Pandey, said that the government was informed of the challenges faced during the previous dry run, and the Centre is now looking into it. "Following the Centre's instructions, the dry run will be carried out on a larger scale this time. It will help us understand the challenges faced at a larger scale. It will also test the use of the Co-WIN platform (to roll out and scale up vaccination)," he said.

The Union Minister for Health has called a meeting of his counterparts in the states on January 7 to discuss the dry run.

Rajani Nageshrao, Deputy Director for Immunisation, said the mock drill is expected last two hours. A health officer said, "It will build confidence in programme managers. During the first dry run they were some problems. Many beneficiaries turned up late, and some did not turn up. This time they will be informed well in advance."

K'taka all set for vaccine delivery

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government is all set to carry out the Covid-19 immunisation programme, armed with the infrastructure and the experience of two dry runs - the second one planned for January 8.

The state is well prepared for vaccination and the government is also checking the efficiency of micro planning for administration of the vaccine, Commissioner for Health, Pankaj Kumar Pandey said.

"The immunisation for pulse polio was carried out in the state earlier and it was well-planned. Similarly, the state will carry out the covid vaccination drive. We are expecting the process to go on smoothly," he said.

His comments days after the Centre said it the vaccine would be rolled out around 10 days after it granted approvals. However, the Centre has not yet specified which vaccine will be used. Currently, approvals have been given for Covishield, which is manufactured by Pune-based Serum Institute of India and developed by Oxford University-AstraZeneca.

A source said all districts are continuously monitoring activities such as communication planning, cold chain, micro planning of vaccine logistics. Staff and infrastructure are also in place.

Pandey said that so far, 6.3 lakh health care workers have registered. "More or less all health care workers have been registered. In the first phase, health care workers will be administered the vaccine, followed by front line workers. However, there is no official communication yet as to which vaccine is going to be rolled out," he said.

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar has said that in the third phase people age above 50 years and those with comorbidities will get the jab.

Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike has the highest number of health workers - 1,03,468 - both government and private, followed by Mysuru with 32,153, Dakshina Kannada with 30,070, Shivamogga with 20,549, Kalaburagi with 15,902 and Bengaluru Urban with 15,856.

The number of health workers registering has seen a decline from December 25. The number was on December 11 with 1,16,336 beneficiaries registered. December 25 saw just 1,658 people signing up, which declined to 188 on January 3.

VACCINE TRIALS

Scientists were inspiration for Mysuru doctor couple

AJITH M S @Mysuru

PEOPLE like two-time Nobel prize winning scientist Marie Curie were Dr D R Mahadeshwara Prasad's inspiration. "People like Madam Curie had exposed themselves to radiation. Many others have done the same. That's what history is. So, we decided to become guinea pigs," Dr Prasad said.

He participated in the clinical trials for Oxford University-AstraZeneca and Serum Institute of India's Covishield vaccine, along with his wife, who is also a doctor.

"We both took the decision at once and went in for the trials together. We are researchers ourselves and wanted to support the effort. Many were averse to it, but we were willing to take the risk. With human rights concerns, it cannot just be given to anyone but someone had to pitch in," said the 48-year-old doctor, who holds a PhD in genotoxicology.

Dr Prasad, who works at a Covid hospital in Mysuru, said he did have a moment of hesitation when they read about the side effects. "At that moment, I thought about our children. But my wife had confidence, and our children were also okay with it. They knew that when both of us take a decision, it is the right one," he said.

Except for the mild fever and pain at the spot where the injection was administered, he had no side-effects. "I walked into the hospital for Covid duty immediately after that. My wife too went back to duty. There was no allergic reaction such as anaphylaxis, not even any noticeable after-effects," he said.

The first dose was administered in November, and the second shot followed a month later. After the trial, his friends were very curious about the side-effects.

Dr Prasad is now eagerly waiting for the blood test to learn whether he has developed antibodies against Covid-19. "We took the second dose last month. The blood test will be done after six to eight weeks, and we are waiting for it," he said.

He said that he did not expect a vaccine to arrive very soon, as the Covid virus mutates quickly and that it would not be a definite solution until it has been tested in the real world. In typical doctor fashion, he said, "Right now, there is only one absolute solution: Physical distancing, avoiding crowds, and wearing masks."

SHAPE UP OR SHIP OUT, DKS TELLS PARTY LEADERS

Says it's time to reorganise party, reach out to people and make it poll-ready

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mangaluru

KICKING off his first statewide tour after assuming charge as KPCC President, D K Shivakumar did some tough talking, asking Congress office-bearers to make way for others if they were not able to devote enough time for the grand old party. He was speaking about party organisation in view of future electoral battles.

At the party's Mysuru divisional-level office-bearers' meet called 'Sankalpa Samavesha' at Bantwal near Mangaluru, the first in a series of such meetings across the state, he said many district and block level committees were dissolved as they were inactive, and had a word of caution for others, stating that they should not take things for granted. "We can't dissolve all at a time. We are closely monitoring all committees. You will get opportunities in the party based on your organisational skills," he said.

Stating that the party is being transformed into a cadre-based organisation and emphasis will be on grooming leadership in villages, he said instead of organising the party when elections are round the corner, the party should be battle-ready. Leaders should identify issues in their respective assembly constituencies and hold agitations against it. "Try to develop an emotional connect with the people by understanding their problems. Every worker should devote this year for party organisation and struggle," he said.

Shivakumar, who took the party reins in the middle of a losing streak, said he will tour 100-150 assembly constituencies this year with focus on segments where the party has not won in the past elections. Efforts will be made to bring back all those communities that have gone away from the party, and groom fresh leaders in all segments. Stating that party ideology is its foundation, he asked workers not to come under pressure and dump it.

The party's district and block president were given three minutes' time to explain their vision for the party organisation in their jurisdiction.

3 Karnataka veterans to be poll observers in other states

BANSY KALAPPA @Bengaluru

IN a sign that the Congress is getting serious about upcoming assembly elections in four states and one Union Territory, a team of 12 senior observers has been constituted to oversee election coordination. Polls are due in West Bengal, Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Assam and Puducherry before June.

Of these handpicked leaders, three are from Karnataka and are part of the AICC team. Former Union minister Veerappa Moily heads to Tamil Nadu and Puducherry, former AICC general secretary BK Hariprasad is bound for the crucial state of West Bengal, while former DyCM Dr G Parameshwara will leave for Kerala.

Two sitting chief ministers -- Chhattisgarh's Bhupesh Bhagel and Rajasthan's Ashok Gehlot – figure in the list of observers to Assam and Kerala respectively.

Moily told The New Indian Express, "I have been in-charge of Tamil Nadu earlier and am confident about the state. I have knowledge of the area and leaders at the district and taluk level. I have ensured success for our party earlier also. It is a good move and this kind of management is a must. It goes to show that Congress is serious about winning these elections."

Of all these states, the most electrifying campaign promises to be in West Bengal, where Hariprasad will take charge of the team of observers, his other two team members being sitting ministers from Jharkhand and Punjab.

"I have been there during the last assembly election as Screening Committee chairman. We managed to win 42 seats," he said.

The Congress president in West Bengal is Adhir Ranjan Choudary, who is also Opposition leader in the Lok Sabha.

Parameshwara, who will head to Kerala with Ashok Gehlot and former Goa CM Luizinho Faleiro, said he was part of the election campaign team in 2016 in Kerala and has a fair idea about the state.

Why such a hurry over Mantapa project, says ex-officer Jaamdar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AS Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa and other senior ministers participated in the ground-breaking ceremony for construction of a new Anubhava Mantapa in Basavakalyan, former additional chief secretary S M Jaamdar sharply criticised Chief Minister Yediyurappa for hurrying the project. "There is no tender, no estimate, the project has not been approved. Why is this being done in such a tearing hurry?" he questioned.

There is no tender, no estimate, the project has not been approved. Why is this being done in such a tearing hurry?

S M Jaamdar, former additional chief secretary

Jaamdar, who is from the Lingayat community, asked what was the need to hurry with the inauguration. "Invitations for the ceremony were distributed on January 2 and 3, and the Anubhava Mantapa was inaugurated on January 6. Is it being done with an eye on the Basavakalyan assembly bypoll which are due any time?" he asked.

The Election Commission is expected to come up with an order in a few days. As a rule, by-elections have to be mandatorily completed six months after the seat falls vacant, which means it will have to be completed before March 24, and the declaration is due any time.

He said, "In the budget, they have proposed to set up Anubhava Mantapa at a cost of Rs 500 crore, and released Rs 100 crore to Basava Kalyan Development Board. Why are due processes not being followed?"

He also criticised the government advertisement of the ceremony, which says 'Sanatana pragatipara parampareya maarusrishti'.

WHAT WENT DOWN

1. Veteran litterateur Go Ru Channabasappa, under whose chairmanship a committee was constituted for overseeing the construction of the Anubhava Mantapa, in his speech expressed his displeasure about the title of an advertisement that appeared in Kannada newpapers about the event, titled aanatana pragati para chintana marusrusti (the rebirth of ancient progressive thinking). He said that it should have been titled sharana pragatipara chintaneya marusrusthi (the rebirth of the progressive thinking of sharanas).
2. When KPCC working president Eshwar Khandre and other Congress leaders submitted a memorandum to Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa, requesting that the compensation for flood-affected farmers be released and to take steps to restart the Bidar Sahakari Sakkare Karakhane, the CM said that he was there for the foundation stone laying ceremony and does not want to discuss development work during the programme.
3. When the organisers were bringing a memento of Basaveshwara in a glass case meant for the CM, it fell and the case broke. The organisers brought out another memento of a bust of the thinker without a frame and gave it to the CM.
4. Deputy leader of the JDS in the Assembly Bandeppa Kashempur and MLCs Vijay Singh and Aravind Arali were absent for the programme.
5. The CM seemed to be in a happy mood during the ceremony.

CM lays foundation stone for Intl Music Spring

REFERRING to the suggestions of renowned litterateur Go Ru Channabasappa to establish a Vachana University in the state, and the pontiff of Bhalki Hiremath Samsthan, Shri Basavalinga Pattada Devaru, to start conducting the Basava Utsava at Basavakalyan again, the CM said a decision will be taken after discussions with experts and pontiffs of different mutts.

Yediyurappa also laid the foundation for the International Music Spring at Basavakalyan, to be built at a cost of Rs 350 crore.

Deputy CM Laxman Savadi, Bidar district in-charge minister Prabhu Chavhan, Bidar MP Bhagavant Khuba, KKRDB president Dattatreya Patil Revoor, Kalyana Karnataka Abhivradhi Sangha president Basavaraj Patil Sedam, KPCC working president Eshwar Khandre, Humnabad MLA Rajashekhar Patil and others were present.

Awake, arise and stop not till March next year: Siddu

Mangaluru: Former chief minister and Opposition leader Siddaramaiah on Wednesday asked the Congress' office-bearers to introspect why they faltered in convincing people about the achievements of his five-year rule and of the UPA government. Speaking at the Sankalpa Samavesha programme, he said that the programmes implemented by the Congress immensely helped the poor during the lockdown but the people were not told they were the party's programmes. Stating that the Congress got the maximum number of votes at 38.4 per cent during the last Assembly election but the BJP came to power by winning more seats, he said that people did not give a single party a majority. "We need to tell people the truth and convince them that the BJP was telling lies. Till March next year, the party workers should not rest," he said. ENS

Madhu to join Congress

RAMACHANDRA V GUNARI
@Shivamogga

PUTTING all speculation to rest, JDS leader Madhu Bangarappa has said that he will join Congress soon. News of his imminent entry into the party has been doing the rounds for the past few months.

"I will wait for some more days," said Madhu Bangarappa recently while addressing his supporters who have won in the Gram Panchayat elections as independent candidates, at Talaguppa of Sagar taluk.

Speculation has been rife that he may join the Congress ever since the Lok Sabha byelection in October 2018. He was a consensus candidate of JDS-Congress and took on BJP's B Y Raghavendra. Congress leaders like Kagodu Thimmappa, former CM Siddaramiah and KPCC president D K Shivakumar and many others campaigned for Madhu in the district. Interestingly, the Congress leaders and the District Congress Committee supported him in a big way. Most of the Congress leaders mentioned their association with his father and former CM S Bangarappa.

But Madhu lost the election and had been keeping a low profile since then. He maintained distance not only from the JDS, but even from leaders like former CM H D Kumaraswamy and the district party netas. He did not take part in any programmes of the party during this period.

The time is right for him to join Congress as the party is looking for a Ediga leader after MLA Kumar Bangarappa, a Ediga and Madhu's brother, quit the party in 2017, sources said. Sorab, being a stronghold of the Ediga community, Congress wants Madhu to fill that void.

Also Madhu Bangarappa has a good equation with Congress veteran and Ediga leader Kagodu Thimmappa. Kagodu's role in bringing Madhu Bangarappa to Congress is significant. Madhu has an equally good relationship with Shivakumar and Siddaramaiah.

'Tech subjects will aid madrasa students'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka government is making efforts to revise the syllabus of madrasas, to include scientific and technical subjects, so that students graduating from these institutions are easily employed and will be brought into the mainstream of society, Minority Welfare Minister Shrimant Patil said here on Wednesday.

He told the media that in order to provide better employment opportunities to students from the minority community, the department is planning to start ITIs in every district, and polytechnic colleges in four divisions of the state.

Patil released two books on the achievements of schools and colleges coming under the minority department, the first being 'Shrama Darpan', a book containing the analysis of 2019-20 results of SSLC and PUC II exams from across the districts. Giving department officials a pat, Patil said, "It is a compliment to the department of minority welfare that these have recorded the highest percentage of results compared to the state average, and teachers and staff have done good work."

I know when to speak, says Yatnal

Bengaluru: BJP MLA Basangouda Patil Yatnal on Wednesday said that he had not received any instructions from the party high command, asking him not to express his views. The former Union minister, who made statements about a change of leadership in the state and also accused Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa of allowing his son to interfere in the administration, said that he knew when to speak and when not to. Yatnal told reporters, "I just expressed my concern at the meeting called by the Chief Minister. I will wait for a month and see if the grants are released or not." He also said that he would speak when it comes to development, and that he did not have any intention of embarrassing the CM or the government. "Earlier as well, I have spoken about development and pro-people issues," he added. ENS

Govt schemes helping in revival of industries: Shettar

MANY workers had returned to their towns and villages due to Covid-19 and companies are now looking to hire locals.

Karnataka Chamber of Commerce and Industries (FKCCI) president P Sundar pointed out that industries are preferring local candidates. "Due to the lockdown, people who came from other states for work, have returned. Now that the economy has taken a U-turn, sectors like hospitality, MSMEs, automobiles, real estate have seen improvement and there is a demand for unskilled and skilled labour," he pointed out.

Large and Medium Industries Minister Jagadish Shettar said that along with the economic rebound, there are many government schemes and initiatives that are helping in the revival of industries. "We had estimated that the slowdown and uncertainty of jobs will be only temporary. Industries in Bengaluru, Mysuru, Hubballi-Dharwad and Belagavi are on the upswing and are recruiting people," he said.

Shettar said Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa will lay the foundation for the toy manufacturing cluster at Koppal on January 9, which is expected to become functional in the next four months. This will generate 20,000 jobs, he added.

VIRTUAL AIR SHOW

You can watch Aero India, but only on your screens

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AERO India 2021 is scheduled to take off in Bengaluru on February 3. But those waiting to witness the dazzling display of gravity-defying manoeuvres during the show will be in for disappointment. They have to watch the show only in the virtual mode as it will be only a business-focused event with no public days like in normal air shows due to the challenges posed by the Covid-19 pandemic.

The five-day event which has been cut short to three days, will begin on February 3 and conclude on February 5 -- the three business days -- at Air Force Station Yelahanka in Bengaluru. The decision to reduce the number of days was taken during a meeting chaired by Defence Minister Rajnath Singh in New Delhi last month. Officials in Bengaluru too confirmed that only business delegates will be allowed inside the venue.

In the last edition of the show in 2019, 238 Indian and 165 foreign exhibitors had displayed their products | EXPRESS

A statement issued by the MoD after the meeting stated that people have to witness the air display only in the virtual mode to make way for safe in-person interactions among the business representatives of defence and aerospace firms.

Given the restrictions put in place to contain the spread of Covid-19 and the emergence of a new strain of SARS-CoV-2 virus from the United Kingdom, this edition of the show is unlikely to be attended by many foreign delegates, although the MoD claims that response to the event has been good with over 500 exhibitors registering.

Despite the pandemic worries, the government is keen to showcase India's aerospace and defence manufacturing capabilities during the show and seek investments in the sector.

Experts have expressed concerns over holding such an event amid the Covid situation. Even the Paris air show that was scheduled to be held in June 2021 has been cancelled.

Organizers plan to take adequate precautions, like having thermal scanners at all entry points to check body temperature and strictly enforce the "no-mask-no-entry" rule.

In the last edition of the show in 2019, 238 Indian and 165 foreign exhibitors had displayed their products, and a total of about 4 lakh business and general visitors attended the five-day event. The 2019 event had been by far the largest Aero India event.

Probe unearths conman's links to actress

Radhika Kumaraswamy admits to receiving money, says it was for acting in movie

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Central Crime Branch (CCB) police, who had arrested notorious conman Yuvaraj, have found that he had financial transactions with well-known Kannada actress Radhika Kumaraswamy and had even made online transfers to her bank account. Following the lead, the police had summoned the actres' brother Raviraj last week and questioned him about his links with Yuvaraj, who has allegedly cheated several people to the tune of crores of rupees. The police have also found that the accused had links with other personalities from the film industry.

Reacting to the development, Radhika Kumaraswamy addressed a press conference on Wednesday and clarified that she had received Rs 75 lakh in two transactions from Yuvaraj and his relative in March last year to act in a period movie. "My family knows Yuvaraj for the last 17 years and he is our family friend and astrologer. He was a close friend of my father. I had indeed received money from him. He had told me that he is interested in jointly producing a movie jointly under both our banners. I had advised him to produce either under his banner or mine. He had agreed to produce a movie under his banner," the actress said.

> He (Yuvaraj) had transferred Rs 15 lakh from his account and later a producer (purportedly Yuvaraj's brother-in-law) had transferred another Rs 60 lakh to my account at his behest. I didn't even know the producer and I checked with Yuvaraj, who said the producer is planning a big-budget historical movie
>
> —Radhika Kumaraswamy, actress

"He had transferred Rs 15 lakh from his account and later a producer (purportedly Yuvaraj's brother-in-law) had transferred another Rs 60 lakh to my account at his behest. I didn't even know the producer and I checked with Yuvaraj, who said the producer is planning a big-budget historical movie. This happened between February and March last year, but the film did not take off. I didn't check with him again due to the pandemic," Radhika Kumaraswamy said, adding that she had not entered into any agreement with the producer and had done all the movies based only on trust and not any agreement.

She clarified that apart from the financial transaction related to the movie, she had no other financial transaction with Yuvaraj. She denied reports that the transactions were meant for political purposes. "He had told me on a few occasions that I should meet politicians and also enter politics, but I had told him that I was not interested in it at that point in time. I have met politicians to invite them to my movie-related events, but not with intention like joining politics," she added.

The CCB police had arrested the 52-year-old Yuvaraj on December 16 based on a complaint by a person who alleged that the former had taken Rs 10 crore from him promising an MP's ticket. When the police searched his house in Nagarabavi, they had recovered Rs 26 lakh cash and cheques in the name of Yuvaraj worth Rs 91 crore. Claiming that he was a leader in the RSS and had close links with top BJP leaders, Yuvaraj showed his pictures with BJP leaders including JP Nadda, Amit Shah and B S Yediyurappa and allegedly cheated people.

Accused in rape, murder case held in Goa

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Kamakshipalya police have arrested the youth who was involved in a rape and murder case that was reported on Tuesday. The police arrested the accused from Goa and investigations revealed that the woman, who was in a relationship with him, developed breathing complications during intercourse and died.

The accused has been identified as Praveen, a resident of Ranganathapura in Kamakshipalya, who was working as a cashier in a bar. He was accused of raping and murdering a 42-year-old woman on Monday. The woman's body was found in his house on Tuesday afternoon. Police said that Praveen had gone absconding after the incident. "It was found that he was in Goa and was arrested in the early hours of Wednesday," an official said.

The police had registered a rape and murder case against Praveen, based on the complaint filed by the woman's husband. "Preliminary probe has revealed that the woman, who worked in a printing press, and Praveen had developed an illicit relationship a few months ago.

On Monday evening, the woman had gone to Praveen's house. As per the statement of the accused, they were having intercourse when the woman, who had a history of wheezing, developed severe breathing problems, and lost consciousness. Praveen waited outside the house for some time hoping she will regain consciousness. After realising that she was dead, he escaped," the official said.

Karnataka ups vigil over avian flu threat

State restricts entry of poultry products from Kerala, checkposts will be set up at inter-state borders

As the fear of bird flu grips Tamil Nadu, chicken stall owners sell the bird at throwaway prices in Chennai on Wednesday | DEBADATTA MALLICK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government has sounded high alert and restricted entry of poultry products from Kerala into Karnataka after bird flu cases were reported in the neighbouring state. Though no cases have been reported in the state, the government is taking all precautionary measures, according to Animal Husbandry Minister Prabhu Chauhan.

In Kerala, the H5N8 strain of Avian Influenza, commonly known as bird flu, has been confirmed in parts of Alappuzha and Kottayam.

Officials have been directed to keep a close watch on poultry farms in districts bordering Kerala, and check-posts will be put up at the inter-state borders. While restrictions have been imposed on transporting poultry products from Kerala, vehicles returning to the state after transporting poultry products from Karnataka to Kerala will be allowed after disinfection at the border.

Animal Husbandry Department officials in the bordering districts of Dakshina Kannada, Kodagu, Mysuru and Chamarajanagar have been directed to coordinate with Deputy Commissioners to take necessary measures. The officials have also been directed to send daily reports to the senior officers in Bengaluru and conduct random testing in the districts every week.

Minister Chauhan said officials will closely monitor the situation in poultry farms, bird sanctuaries and keep water bodies under surveillance. They have been directed to immediately report about any case of unnatural death of birds and also take necessary measures. The Forest Department too is keeping a close watch and monitoring the situation.

CENTRAL TEAM TO VISIT KERALA TODAY

ENS @ Kochi

A two-member Central delegation would visit the bird flu-hit areas in Alappuzha and Kottayam on Thursday to take stock of the situation. The delegation will assess the culling and sanitisation steps followed by the state animal husbandry department. "The culling is nearly complete. Officials will keep a tab on the hotspots and over a radius up to 10km from the disease-hit areas for about 10 days.

This would be followed by continuous testing of samples for about two weeks. The declaration of bird flu-free area would be made only after two week-long constant virus negative results in the collected samples," said Dr Hari Kumar, additional secretary, Animal Husbandry Department.

In the wake of the bird flu outbreak in neighbouring Kerala, Karnataka forest authorities have taken all precautionary measures at Ranganathittu Bird Sanctuary in Mandya district. On Wednesday, the forest officials, along with veterinary doctors and ground staff, sprayed chemical to prevent the spread of the virus in and around the sanctuary | UDAYSHANKAR S

Source: Migratory birds or poultry farms?

Kochi: With the spread of bird flu causing concern in Alappuzha and Kottayam districts, ornithologists, environmentalists and researchers have stressed the need to identify the source of infection. Union Minister for Animal Husbandry Giriraj Singh and Kerala Forest Minister K Raju have blamed migratory birds for the outbreak, but ornithologists in Kerala have disputed the claim. Ornithologist R Sugathan, who sent around 2,000 samples of bird droppings collected from the nesting places of migratory birds, says not one sample has tested positive for avian influenza. "The infection has spread among farm ducklings in Kuttanad and Kumarakom area. The strain could have reached the state through the eggs or ducklings brought from other states," he said.

'No trace of flu in TS'

Hyderabad: Stating that there is no presence of bird flu in Telangana, Animal Husbandry Minister Talasani Srinivas Yadav said on Wednesday that the there is no cause for worry. The Minister held an emergency meeting with the officials.

PLAINT RESTORED

Devanahalli land case back to haunt BSY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

IN yet another setback to Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa, the Karnataka High Court restored a corruption case against him before the trial court, in relation to allotment of land to an industrialist by the Karnataka Industrial Area Development Board, and directed the trial court to proceed against him along with two other accused.

Justice John Michael Cunha restored the private complaint filed by industrialist A Alam Pasha before the trial court against Yediyurappa, former Minister for Heavy Industries Murugesh R Nirani and former Managing Director, Karnataka Udyog Mitra, KS Shivaswamy. He cited grounds that sanction for prosecution was not necessary as per a Supreme Court verdict, as they had demitted office which they were holding on the date of commission of the alleged offences. However, Justice Cunha confirmed rejection of the complaint against former Principal Secretary VP Baligar by the trial court on August 26, 2016.

Pasha had filed a petition in 2016 before the high court, seeking to quash the August 26, 2016 order and restore the private complaint filed by him in 2014. Pasha had alleged that Nirani, Yediyurappa, Baligar and Shivaswamy entered into a criminal conspiracy and forged documents purported to have been issued by him, seeking to withdraw approval granted by the High Level Clearance Committee for allotment of 26 acres of land to him at Devanahalli Industrial Area in Bengaluru Rural district.

This is the third setback to Yediyurappa in just a fortnight. On December 22, 2020, the high court dismissed his plea against a probe into illegal denotification of land in Whitefield. On January 5, 2021, his petition questioning denotification of land in RT Nagar in the city was dismissed with cost of Rs 25,000, saying investigation cannot be stalled.

Action against complainant

Rejecting a memo filed by Jayakumar Hiremath seeking to withdraw his petition in relation to denotification of land at Matadahalli by Yediyurappa, Justice Cunha observed that one can readily drawn an inference that Hiremath has either fallen prey to allurements or yielded to pressure by Yediyurappa or other accused. Hence, the investigating agency or trial court should take note of unscrupulous, immoral and unholy nexus between Yediyurappa and Hiremath and other offenders, and take suitable action as per law, Justice Cunha ordered.

Assets case against MP PC Mohan

Modifying the order dated November 8, 2019, passed by the Special Court, Justice Cunha directed the Special Court to take cognisance of alleged offences and proceed against BJP MP PC Mohan in relation to false declaration of assets made before the Returning Officer, for contesting the parliamentary election in 2014.

Noting that as on date of filing of Form 26, Mohan was holding assets to the tune of Rs 25.24 crore as partner of PC Realty, but furnished details of investment as Rs 14.65 crore, Justice Cunha said there is prima facie material to proceed against him for concealment and suppression of material facts. "I do not find any justifiable ground to quash proceedings," he said.

Revoke order for 100% theatre capacity, TN told

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi/Chennai

DAYS after the State government increased the seating capacity in theatres from 50 to 100 per cent, the Union Government on Wednesday directed Tamil Nadu to "immediately" revoke the order and to issue fresh orders complying with the Centre's guidelines. Union Home Secretary Ajay Kumar Bhalla, in a communication addressed to State Chief Secretary, K Shanmugam, said that the GO issued by the latter was in dilution to the guidelines issued by the Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA), dated December 28.

As per the MHA guidelines that would remain in force till January 31 only 50 per cent attendance is allowed in theatres. "State and UTs shall not dilute the guidelines issued under the Disaster Management Act in any manner," the MHA said.

The move comes in the wake of large-spread criticism against the State government's decision of extending the seating capacity. The relaxation, announced on Monday, came after requests were made by the Tamil Nadu Theatre Owners' Association to the State government, with later reports suggesting that actor Vijay had met with Chief Minister Edappadi K Palaniswami, in this regard.

Walayar case: Kerala HC quashes spl court verdict

Kochi : THE High Court on Wednesday quashed the Palakkad Special Court's order acquitting all the four accused in a case in which two minor Dalit girls were found hanging in their makeshift house at Walayar in Palakkad in 2017. The HC ordered a retrial in the case and directed the accused to appear before the trial court on January 20.

CBI arrests 3 in Pollachi rape case

Coimbatore/Chennai: THE Central Bureau of Investigation (CBI) on Wednesday arrested three persons, including an AIADMK functionary, in connection with the Pollachi sexual assault case. This is in addition to the five other arrests made earlier by the CBI, in the case. Following the development, the AIADMK top brass, Edappadi K Palaniswami and O Panneerselvam, expelled Arulanantham, who was the Pollachi Town students' wing secretary, from the party and directed the cadre not to have any truck with them.

Cop attempts to nab habitual offender, attacked by kin

Bengaluru: A constable with the Varthur police station, who went to nab a habitual offender, was attacked by the accused, his mother and brother, on Tuesday. While the accused managed to escape, two of his family members have been arrested on charges of attempt to murder. Manjunath, who sustained serious injuries, is said to be stable. He was in pursuit of Naveen (19), an accused wanted in several burglary cases. His mother Narasamma (65) and elder brother Murugesh (22) have been arrested by the police. "Acting on a tip-off, Manjunath went to nab Naveen. His brother Murugesh opened the door and tried the attack the informant with a machete, but he managed to escape," the police said.

Police arrest guard who murdered colleague, dumped body in sump

Bengaluru: A 20-year-old security guard, who had gone missing on December 31 from Ashoknagar, was found murdered by his colleague. The police, who have arrested the accused, recovered the body from a water sump on Wednesday. The deceased, Misbar Hussain Laskar (20), was a resident of Markham Road in Ashok Nagar and hailed from Hailakandi district in Assam. The accused is Arif Uddin Barbhuiya (22), who lived in the same building and also hailed from Hailakandi. Police said that Laskar had come to Bengaluru in October. He had left his room on December 31 but had not returned. So, his roommate Ujjal Hussain Laskar filed a missing person's case with the Cubbon Park police on January 1.

String of big-ticket releases for this year

THE other star films slated for release this year are Sudeep's Kotigobba 3, produced by Surappa Babu; Dhruva Sarja's Pogaru, produced by B K Gangadhar; Bhajarangi 2 made under Jayanna Films; and Raskhit Shetty's 777 Charlie.

Meanwhile, the Tamil film industry received much flak, with the Centre taking strong exception to the Tamil Nadu government's decision to allow 100 per cent seating in cinema halls. It is said the government took such a decision after prominent actors requested that cinema halls be allowed to function at full capacity, as new movies are slated to release during the Pongal festival. Now, the Tamil Nadu government has decided to revoke its decision after the Centre had written to it in this regard, according to sources.

Even the Karnataka Film Chamber of Commerce as well as the Telugu film industry have appealed to their respective state governments to allow the operation of cinemas with 100 per cent occupancy.

9 demolished temples to be rebuilt

VIJAYAWADA: Amid the criticism over the ongoing attacks on temples and vandalisation of idols, Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy will lay foundation stone for reconstruction to four temples in Vijayawada on January 8.

Seetammavari Padalu, Dakshina Mukha Anjaneya Swamy temple, Sri Rahu-Ketu temple, Sri Venugopala temple were among the dozens of temples demolished by the previous government for taking up construction of Kanaka Durga flyover and Krishna pushkaram arrangements and the government had decided to construct them. Find solution to dangling cables, K'taka HC tells BBMP chief

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday directed the authorities of the state government to look seriously into the grave threat to the citizens due to hanging cables of service providers, private internet, television and cable operators in Bengaluru.

Passing the order after hearing a PIL, a division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Sachin Shankar Magadum directed the Commissioner of BBMP to find out a solution. Issuing notice to the Chief Secretary, Commissioner of Police, Commissioner of BBMP and Managing Director of Bescom, the bench directed the civic body chief to convene a meeting of all stakeholders in this regard.

Referring to the petition filed by N P Amrutesh, advocate, the bench said that the petitioner has drawn the court's attention to the hanging cables. These cables, hanging on residences and trees, are posing a grave threat to the citizens, the bench added. The bench said the photographs attached to the petition show that some cables are hanging very low, and can cause risk to the pedestrians.

Claiming that the authorities have failed to take action against cable operators, the petitioner alleged that even the elected representatives like corporators and MLAs have become mute spectators.

The petitioner said that over 400 deaths occurred in Bengaluru city due to electrocution in the last few years as Bescom's electric lines pass on the buildings. No action was taken against illegal buildings under the high tension lines, which were also a great threat to the residents living in such buildings, the petitioner claimed while providing data in support of his claims.

NEEDLESS CORPORATE WAR OVER THE COVID VACCINE

A corporate war among pharmaceutical vaccine producers is the last thing a Covid-weary population needs after tens of thousands of deaths and millions waiting impatiently to take a safety jab. In this context, Adar Poonawalla, CEO of Serum Institute, which is partnering to produce the AstraZeneca vaccine in India, had named three vaccines as efficient, while labelling others safe "just like water". Taking umbrage, Bharat Biotech CMD Krishna Ella hit back at "doubters" in a press conference, claiming its vaccine Covaxin was ready for use. By the same measure, the two companies must be congratulated for burying the hatchet on Tuesday. A joint statement said it was more important "to save lives" and they promised to work together "for a smooth rollout".

Meanwhile, there are concerns highlighted by patient groups that while efficacy data was not available for Bharat Biotech's Covaxin till December 30, it had been hurriedly given the go-ahead on January 2. The health department would do well to be slow rather than sloppy in green-lighting 'emergency-use' vaccines. Lives are at stake and the country's mass immunisation programme is too big to go wrong. At the same time, the demand for millions of doses cannot be met by one or two companies.

Pricing issues too between the government and the Serum Institute, which is going to market AstraZeneca's Covishield, have caused delays and it appears a large stock of 70 million doses has built up as the stalemate continued. The spat has cost us precious time, when the country is struggling with over 10 million infections. Three days ago it appears the matter was resolved after Serum Institute agreed to sell a 100 million doses to the government at a special price of ₹200 a unit. When countries like the US and UK are fully into their vaccination programme, it is not right that deployment and supply arrangements are held up because of pricing issues. The companies involved cannot be allowed to profiteer; at the same time, the government has to agree to spend the extra rupee to save lives.

QUEST FOR POWER IN SPORTS FEDERATIONS

Equations of convenience, garnering numbers, last-moment reshuffling of alliances and networking continue to be the operating principles in national sports federation elections. Sports administrators in India are generally viewed with cynicism and these processes often reveal the malaise in the system. They show that development of sports is not the sole criterion when it comes to winning elections. Following a sports ministry diktat, 14 federations had to conduct elections before December 31. Most of them completed the process. The elections, however, were not without incidents. Like always, teething issues came to the fore.

For instance, in the Indian Golf Union, members changed state units or clubs just before elections. A glance at the electoral list showed that some members who reside in one state represented another. This was nothing but a method to exploit loopholes in the rule book. Going by the book, no rule was flouted. Yet, examples were set that can be emulated by others in future. The story of the All India Chess Federation was another. There were fights between the factions led by the president and the secretary. Even though the secretary's team defeated the president's in the elections on Monday, there were allegations of coercion during last-minute parleys by the former. More intriguing was the fact that officials were elected from states where chess has little or no footprint. The new president comes from Uttar Pradesh, where chess is not a flourishing sport. There are vice-presidents from Arunachal and Mizoram and joint-secretaries from Nagaland and Sikkim. Chess is virtually nonexistent in the Northeast, but their representatives were given positions just because they voted for a certain group. The other group might have done the same, because that is the practice. In the Boxing Federation of India, the late entry of a political heavyweight led to the elections being postponed, to allow officials to work out fresh equations.

Despite court orders, hardly any of the 50-plus national federations comply with the National Sports Development Code of 2011. One reason for that is, in their quest for power, officials are busy networking and bending rules instead of following them. The more they change, the more they remain the same.

Economic activity in India has resumed and is growing stronger than expected. This new year, the nation will try to rebuild everything that took a hit during the pandemic

2021, A YEAR THAT EMBODIES HOPE

CHANDRAJIT BANERJEE
Director General, Confederation of Indian Industry

AMIT BANDRE

The year of the virus has just ended and there is much reason for hope in 2021. Several vaccines are ready for use and the government is preparing for a massive rollout across the country. Economic activity, which had come to a standstill in the initial months of the pandemic, has resumed and is accelerating steadily. In fact, the economic recovery in India has turned out to be much stronger than earlier expected, although many challenges remain. India has also been able to contain the spread of the virus quite successfully, as cases have moderated across all regions in the country.

Distributing the vaccine in a country like ours with its large population and vast area will be the first big challenge in 2021. Fortunately, India has some advantages, being the largest manufacturer of vaccines in the world. It also has an existing cold chain for vaccine distribution and an electronic vaccine intelligence network (eVIN) to track availability on a real-time basis. The challenge is for the public and private sectors to work together to ramp up the existing infrastructure and compensate for any disparity that exists among states and regions.

As the vaccination programme accelerates across countries, the global economy will start looking up and be more open for business. Indian industry needs to take this opportunity to become a more competitive player with a greater share of global markets. The WTO expects the volume of global merchandise trade to rise by 7.2% in 2021 following a 9.2% contraction in 2020. Global supply chains are also shifting as countries reorient their production capacities. It can be hoped that countries such as India will emerge as reliable production hubs in 2021, with any hurdles in the path of investors being eased.

The reforms that have been unleashed by the government over the last few years, together with the moves towards ease of doing business, will build a momentum towards industrial rejuvenation in India. Businesses are ready to operate in the post-pandemic world using more sustainable models and digital technologies. Worldwide, businesses are being restructured to become more climate conscious while smart technologies are enhancing their presence. The market will reward those that reorient their strategies in these directions and I expect a lot of winners to emerge in 2021.

As the economy begins to restore itself, one major challenge will be to create jobs as also to improve their quality. The experience of the workers, many of whom were migrant labourers whose livelihoods were destroyed at the onset of the pandemic, will not be forgotten. New jobs that are created must be accompanied by an improvement in the facilities provided, such as housing and access to health and education. The share of formal employment needs to be increased, a trend that has already started and will certainly be enhanced in 2021. At the same time, informal employment and fixed-term employment must come with greater social security.

As the economy begins to restore itself, a major challenge will be to create jobs and improve their quality. ... There will also be greater focus on the quality of education as children get back to the school environment

In 2021, the government will focus on rebuilding the economy. The finance minister has already set the bar high by saying that the forthcoming Budget will be like no other in the past 100 years. This leads me to believe that funds will be provided for massive investments in physical as well as social infrastructure. Healthcare will emerge as a priority sector where investment needs to be stepped up not only to meet the immediate challenge of vaccination but also to improve long-term productivity of the workforce. Privatisation will be stepped up in order to provide the funds to achieve these ends. A simpler and more effective tax system will be developed to enhance coverage.

I also expect to see the creation of a future-ready financial sector in 2021. Financing India's growth to achieve its ambition of reaching the $5 trillion size sooner rather than later would require a nimble and supportive financial sector. This would need several reforms including greater freedom for the private sector to participate in banking. Sorting out the problem of non-performing assets would be critical to reduce the stress in the banking system. Innovative solutions need to be found and I expect a new paradigm to emerge in 2021.

The pandemic has also resulted in a setback to the equality of access and opportunities that has been a hallmark in India's development. A stark example is in the area of education where lack of access to digital connectivity has been a great disadvantage for the weaker sections. In 2021, I expect there will be greater focus on the quality of education, as children get back to the physical school environment. Similarly, livelihoods will be restored in other service sectors where contact is important.

The pandemic has made the year gone by one of the most painful in recent history but fortunately it has ended with the creation of effective vaccines. It is therefore natural that 2021 embodies hope for a better future. It is essential that all stakeholders combine forces to make this a reality, with partnerships across countries, across public and private sectors, and across government and civil society.

NO DATA TO HANDLE MENTAL HEALTH CRISIS DURING COVID

AMAR PATNAIK
Rajya Sabha MP and former CAG official with a PhD in management

The coronavirus is known to be extremely multifaceted, in the sense that it is able to attack different organs in the human body—the lungs, liver, kidneys and even the heart. However, there is another organ that the virus attacks silently, but the effects of this are most often not visible: the human mind, and that too with extremely debilitating consequences. Several reports in the past few months have highlighted a range of mental health issues stemming from the virus.

The WHO states that the lockdown(s) imposed in several countries, including India, have induced social isolation, fear, stress and anxiety in many older adults, care providers and people with underlying health conditions. Concomitant financial distress and loss of livelihoods during this period have aggravated the aforementioned issues.

Indian situation critical: A recent survey by the Indian Psychiatry Society found that the number of mental illness cases had increased by 20% since the lockdown, and that at least one in five Indians were affected. The situation is dire in India because of pre-existing neglect, ignorance and the taboo surrounding mental health as well as due to limited accessibility and availability of medical support. For instance, according to the National Mental Health Survey (2016), 83% of people suffering from mental health problems in India did not have access to treatment.

While the Mental Health Care Act of 2017 guarantees that persons with mental illness are to be treated as equal to those with any regular physical ailment, outdoor patient services still remain unavailable, resulting in people having to go to expensive private hospitals, thus increasing their out-of-pocket expenses manifold. The situation is further aggravated by the absence of insurance cover either in the public or private sector.

Amidst other mental health concerns triggered by these lockdowns, an increase in suicides has been reported. For instance, based on the latest police data, Kolkata has seen an alarming 100% increase in suicide rates since the lockdown was imposed. Diverse factors such as alcohol withdrawal, fear of contracting the virus, loss of loved ones, rising debt and economic uncertainty have played a crucial role in the alleged suicides. Student suicides in relation to competitive examinations like NEET have also been reported. Alarmingly, this has affected people and families from disenfranchised backgrounds much more acutely.

Absence of data: Concerned at the increasing suicide rates and other mental health issues, I had posed an unstarred question during the brief Monsoon Session of Parliament (252nd Session). The ministry has replied that no study was conducted by the government to assess the pandemic's impact on mental health, which is a pity if true. It must be considered that assessing the pandemic's impact on the mental well-being of the public is a necessary step in the prevention of suicides and in efforts to provide a healthy environment for the country's citizens. Such data would have enabled a better understanding of this complex issue and resulted in the production of better health-related research and policies. In fact, the primary reason for absence of insurance products for mental health patients is the lack of data on mortality and morbidity related to this disease. Except Odisha's Biju Swasthya Kalyan Yojana, where cost of treatment of psychiatric disorders is covered with free treatment in government hospitals, most other states do not cover it. Though Ayushman Bharat covers this, insurance is not available in private hospitals.

Concerned at the increasing suicide rates and other mental health issues, I had posed an unstarred question during the brief Monsoon Session of Parliament. The ministry has replied that no study was conducted by the government to assess the pandemic's impact on mental health, which is a pity

Although the government has taken several initiatives to indicate that mental health is not missing from its agenda, it cannot be denied that a thorough follow-up of the efficacy, availability, accessibility, affordability and quality is not possible unless there is accurate data.

Furthermore, with nationwide variations in health and disease distribution, any mental well-being plan needs to address not only regional and state-wise differences but also a lack of awareness amongst a majority of Indians who stigmatise the disease, particularly in rural areas. Most important is the equity aspect that needs to be kept in mind while designing and implementing any mental health policy. Therefore, to address the wide range of mental health issues, especially during this period of crisis, what we need is a tailor-made approach to the different regions and socio-cultural groups instead of a one-size-fits-all package that can only be designed if there is adequate data collected.

Conclusion: Finally, mental health issues need to be embedded in a broader public health discourse to allow for it to be treated like any other health issue as envisaged in our national health policies and programmes; only then can effective community participation take place. Any plan to manage mental health issues should also consider the parameters of age and sex. For instance, according to a recent study, 27% of women reported an increase in challenges associated with mental illness as compared to 10% of men. Medical experts warn that amidst the pandemic, a nationwide mental health crisis is imminent, which is the silent pandemic waiting to happen unless addressed immediately.

Johnson's decision correct

British Prime Minister Boris Johnson made the right decision to cancel his proposed visit to India as chief guest for our Republic Day parade due to the surge of the new strain of Covid in his country. As the new strain has arrived in India recently and we are still in the midst of the fight against the virus, it would be better if this year the day is celebrated without foreign dignitaries and too much extravaganza.

Sudhakar Cherukunnu, Kannur

Celebrate R-Day quietly

Boris Johnson's cancellation is a welcome and timely decision. Due to this and the heavy casualties across the world due to the virus, it would be better if Republic Day is celebrated without the usual pomp and gaiety.

P Victor Selvaraj, Palayamkottai

Good that they made peace

Covid vaccine manufacturers Serum Institute of India (SII) and Bharat Biotech have done well to make peace after getting into a slugfest earlier. In an unexpected development, the two companies buried the hatchet and jointly pledged a smooth rollout of vaccines. The first batch of healthcare workers should get their first jab by mid-January.

N J Ravi Chander, Bengaluru

Not the time for silly spats

It is a big relief to see both the Covid vaccine manufacturing companies in India settling their differences quickly in these trying times. Now is not the time for silly spats and taking credit, but for manufacturing and supplying vaccines to the population.

Jitesh Mathur, Hyderabad

Parties and empty promises

This is with reference to AAP punching way above its weight for pan-India footprint (Jan 6). The AAP's ascension from being a strong voice against corruption to the throne of Delhi in 2013 was with the promise of graft-free governance. However, what followed was only disappointment. It is time people realise the trick of new parties and their empty promises.

Bijumon P N, Idukki

Still a long way to go

When the AAP entered the political arena, people had a lot of expectations. Unfortunately, the party has failed to impress voters anywhere except Delhi. The party has not developed dedicated cadre to work for it. It still has a long way to go for its pan-India dream.

N Nagarajan, Secunderabad

Theatre move suicidal

The move of opening theatres with 100% capacity in Tamil Nadu is suicidal. It is surprising that all opposition parties are silent on the matter. It seems both the ruling party and opposition are playing vote bank politics in the matter.

M Manivannan, email

Fan reactions unwarranted

It is sad that actor Rajinikanth's fans are planning to hold demonstrations to request him to reconsider his decision of keeping away from politics. Since he expressed that this is due to health reasons, asking him to reconsider it is unwarranted and ridiculous. His fans should understand this if they really love their 'thalaivar'. Their actions will accomplish nothing.

Sri Raghava, Thanjavur

Kerala HC's decision good

The Kerala High Court's decision not to treat a first-time offender as a criminal is momentous. As the court observed, the society must reform such persons. After all, a sinner has a future and a saint has a past.

C G Kuriakose, Kothamangalam

Major role to play

The Director-General of the WHO, Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, lauding India's action plan for manufacturing, distributing and executing the Covid vaccines shows how much our nation is being observed all over the globe. PM Modi was also appreciated by many world leaders for his handling of the virus. As the largest vaccine producer in the world, India has a major role to play in these trying times to help humanity.

SC raises concern over 'no improvement' on ground

Top court to hear all petitions challenging Centre's new farm laws and the ones raising issues related to ongoing agitation on January 11

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Wednesday expressed concern over the ongoing farmers' protest and said there was absolutely no improvement in the situation and slated the hearing of all the petitions challenging the Centre's new farm laws and the ones raising issues related to the agitation on January 11.

The bench headed by Chief Justice of India S A Bobde's observation came while it took up a petition filed by advocate ML Sharma, who had challenged the constitutional validity of the laws.

In his petition, Sharma has alleged that the 1954 Amendment Act of the Constitution, which had included Agriculture in the Concurrent List of the Constitution, was passed improperly. He has argued that the inclusion of agriculture in the Concurrent list was unconstitutional.

Initially, the bench indicated that all the pending matters related to the legal challenge to farm laws, as well as the ongoing protest, will be taken up in the court on January 8. However, Solicitor General Tushar Mehta and Attorney General KK Venugopal objected to this.

Venugopal told the court that there is a good chance that parties may come to some conclusion soon, as another round of talks is scheduled for Friday.

Mehta argued that since healthy talks are going on between farmers and Centre, it would not be advisable to take up the matters immediately.

Adding to this, the A-G argued that filing of response in the court by the Centre could foreclose avenues of negotiations underway between farmers and Centre. The bench then said it will like to take up the petitions challenging the farm laws on Monday.

At least six petitions challenging the constitutional and legal validity of the three agri laws are pending before the apex court. Besides, two PILs have been filed seeking removal of the protesting farmers from the Delhi borders.

We understand the situation and encourage the consultation. We can adjourn the matters on Monday (January 11) if you submit the same due to the ongoing consultation process — Supreme Court to Centre

NO INVITE TO 'ANTI-FARMER' MODI: GURDWARA COMMITTEE

Owing to his 'anti-farmer' stand, the Shiromani Gurdwara Parbandhak Committee (SGPC) has decided not to send special invite to PM Narendra Modi for the Sikh centenary events. Normally, the SGPC — the highest Sikh religious body — extends special invites to the PM and the President on historical occasions. "We have decided not to extend any special invitation to PM Modi for the upcoming centenary events, including the 400th birth anniversary of Guru Tegh Bahadur," SGPC chief Bibi Jagir Kaur said.

'UNIONS MUST UNDERSTAND SENTIMENTS BEHIND REFORMS'

Agriculture Minister Narendra Singh Tomar on Wednesday urged protesting unions to understand the sentiments behind reforms brought through the farm laws. He also expressed confidence that the unions will focus on farmers' interests and help the government reach a solution through constructive dialogue. The government is committed towards the farmers and their interests, he asserted. The next round of talks is scheduled for January 8.

Farmers to take out 'tractor rally' today as R-Day rehearsal

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

FARMERS' unions on Wednesday said they will hold a march with 4,000-5,000 tractors on the Eastern and Western Peripheral Expressways on Thursday as a "rehearsal" for January 26, even as the Haryana Police placed barricades at four locations on the Delhi-Jaipur Expressway to stop protesters from entering the national capital, resulting in blockages on the national highway.

These four key locations include Kapdiwas Chowk in Gurugram, Masani barrage in Dharuhera, Sangwari village in Rewari and Jaisinghpur Khera (Haryana-Rajasthan border) on the Delhi-Jaipur national highway.

Sources said the farmer leaders were finalising the plans for the Thursday's 'tractor-trolley march' as the traffic movement on the expressways would be blocked between 11 am and 4 pm. "The tractors will start the march from all the directions of Kundli and Tikri borders on the eastern side, and Rewasan and Ghazipur from the western side," said Omkar Singh, general secretary of the BKU (Rajewal Group).

With the NH-48 already blocked, heavy traffic movement is being seen on the alternative routes, like Pataudi Road and Kapdiwas Chowk in Gurugram, Bhiwadi in Rajasthan and Masani barrage in Rewari.

SP Rewari Abhishek Jorwal said forces have been in Dharuhera and other protesting sites following Sunday's clash between a group of farmers and the police.

Cop who lodged murder bid case shunted by CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chandigarh

PUNJAB CM Amarinder Singh on Wednesday transferred an SHO for lodging an attempt to murder case against farm law protesters who had allegedly dumped cow dung at a BJP leader's house and also ordered withdrawal of the charge.

Singh said the police officer had gone overboard in registering a case under section 307 of the Indian Penal Code after the protest in Hoshiarpur last week. The police had booked a group of people protesting over the Centre's new farm laws under different IPC sections, including 307 (attempt to murder), after they unloaded a dung-laden trolley in front of BJP leader Tikshan Sud's house last Friday. The CM also ordered the SHO's transfer. The Hoshiarpur case is now being probed by a special investigation team.

The CM again urged PM Narendra Modi to repeal the laws, over which thousands of Punjab farmers are protesting at the borders of Delhi.

External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar with his Sri Lankan counterpart Dinesh Gunawardena after a joint media briefing in Colombo Wednesday | PTI

S Jaishankar bats for dignity, equality to Sri Lankan Tamils

PUSHKAR BANAKAR @ New Delhi

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, who is on a three-day visit to Sri Lanka, on Wednesday urged Colombo to meet the aspirations of the Tamil community in the country and called for greater devolution of powers.

"Our support for the reconciliation process in Sri Lanka is longstanding, as indeed for an inclusive political outlook that encourages ethnic harmony. It is in Sri Lanka's own interest that the expectations of the Tamil people for equality, justice, peace and dignity within a united Sri Lanka are fulfilled," Jaishankar said at a joint press conference with Sri Lankan Foreign Minister Dinesh Gunawardena.

"That applies equally to the commitments made by the Sri Lankan government on meaningful devolution, including the 13th Amendment to the Constitution. The progress and prosperity of Sri Lanka will surely be advanced as a consequence," he added.

Jaishankar said this message signifies the importance Prime Minister Narendra Modi and the NDA government give to the aspirations to the Sri Lankan Tamil community. Modi was the first the PM to visit Jaffna.

"In his tenure, India has undertaken numerous efforts, including housing projects and cultural restoration for the Tamil community in Sri Lanka," he said.

The Tamil issue was also discussed by Modi during his virtual summit with his Sri Lankan counterpart Mahinda Rajapaksa in September last year. New Delhi had urged Colombo for the full implementation of the 13th amendment, an outcome of the 1987 India-Sri Lanka peace accord aimed at devolving more powers to the Tamils.

The EAM also said several initiatives were discussed relating to cooperation in various fields, including infrastructure, connectivity.

Pompeo hails EAM for strengthening Indo-US ties

New Delhi : Outgoing US Secretary of State Mike Pompeo has heaped praises on External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar, calling him a great diplomat and leader who has helped relations between the two countries to become all the stronger. "The U.S.-India relationship was made all the stronger with a great diplomat and leader as my friend. Thank you @Jaishankar. #HowdyModi #ModiHaitoMumkinHai," the secretary of state tweeted. Pompeo and Jaishankar are known to have frequent telephonic conversations and exchange views on regional, bilateral and global issues.

Nepal FM may visit India on Jan 14 to procure 12 mn vaccine doses

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

NEPAL Foreign Minister Pradeep Gyawali is expected to visit India on January 14 and likely to urge New Delhi for a commitment of 12 million vaccine doses for the Himalayan nation.

Sources said the Nepal-India Joint Commission meeting with External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar would be held on January 15 and officials are currently giving final touches to the agreements that could be signed during the visit.

The commitment to the vaccine could be an important development as Nepal is being seen to prefer India over China on the vaccine issue. Nepal has been offered China's vaccine — Sinovac — but it seems to be interested in procuring the Indian vaccine.

Nepal Ambassador to India Nilamber Acharya has already held several meetings with Indian vaccine manufacturers, with the latest meeting held on Tuesday with Dr V Krishna Mohan, executive director of Bharat Biotech. The two ministers are also likely to discuss the boundary issues which had led to relations between the two countries nosedive.

The visit also assumes significance as it comes amid a political crisis in the Himalayan nation, with PM KP Sharma Oli and former PM Pushpa Kamal Dahal having split the ruling Nepal Communist Party into two factions. While China is seen to be supportive of Dahal, India has resorted to a wait and watch approach as the crisis unfolds there.

Second dry run across India on Jan 8

NEW DELHI: As a simulation of the actual execution of the Covid-19 vaccine rollout, which is expected to begin in a few days, another round of dry run will be conducted in all districts across states and UTs, except for UP and Haryana, on January 8 to ensure efficient planning and management of the immunisation process.

Each district will identify three types of session sites, similar to the previous dry run conducted on January 2, including a public health facility, private health facility and rural or urban outreach sites, the Union Health Ministry said on Wednesday.

In this regard, a meeting of Union Health Minister Harsh Vardhan with the health ministers of states and UTs is scheduled to take place on Thursday to guide them on conducting the dry run, the ministry said.

The entire planning of the vaccination drive, including beneficiary registration, micro-planning and vaccination at the planned session site, will be tested under the leadership of District collector or DM during the dry run. To facilitate the process, a software named 'Co-WIN' has been developed by the health ministry for real time information on vaccine stocks, their storage temperature and individualised tracking of beneficiaries for the vaccine. ENS

Had cordial ties with PM: Pranab in memoir

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

FORMER President Pranab Mukherjee writes in his memoirs that he had differences with Prime Minister Narendra Modi on several occasions, "but both of us knew how to manage without bringing them out in public". He has narrated an episode on how the government had withdrawn a proposed ordinance after he had raised questions.

Writing about his working relationship with the PM, the former President says, "My approach to maintaining cordial relations with PM Modi was rooted in the fact that I believe in the parliamentary form of government and its principle. Modi had received a decisive mandate from the people to administer the country. Administrative powers are vested in the Council of Ministers, which the PM heads. Therefore, I did not breach my jurisdiction."

He further says that whenever tricky occasions arose, the issues were resolved. "At an event in which PM Modi released a book and I was present, I remarked that it was not that I did not have any differences with him, but that both of us knew how to manage those differences without bringing them out in public," he writes.

Mukherjee, who passed away in August 2020, says that on one occasion, he questioned the PM on an ordinance his government proposed to bring. The recommendation for the ordinance came to his office accompanied by a note from the member in charge (the minister concerned). "I called for an explanation from the said minister. He had in Parliament sought to refer the issue, on which the ordinance was routed to me, to a parliamentary panel for further discussion. I wanted to know the urgency of issuing the proclamation, especially when the member incharge as the author himself did not believe the issue was urgent, since he had wanted it referred to a committee," writes Mukherjee. He says that sensing his disquiet, "the PM spoke to his minister, who then informed me that the government had decided to withdraw the ordinance".

Mukherjee says the mandate the BJP got in two consecutive general elections indicated voters' preference for political stability. He also says Modi had "earned and achieved" the prime ministership "through popular choice" unlike Manmohan Singh, "who was offered the post by Sonia Gandhi".

'Modi quick learner of foreign policy nuances'

Pranab Mukherjee termed PM Narendra Modi's stopover in Lahore 'uncalled for' | FILE

PUSHKAR BANAKAR @ New Delhi

IN his recently-released autobiography, Pranab Mukherjee has termed Prime Minister Narendra Modi's unscheduled stopover in Lahore in 2015 to meet the then Pakistan Premier Nawaz Sharif as "unnecessary and uncalled for", but at the same time the former President has praised Modi for being quick in picking up the nuances of foreign policy.

"I personally feel that PM Modi's stopover in Lahore was unnecessary and uncalled for, given the conditions that prevailed in India-Pakistan relations," he wrote.

The fourth edition of The Presidential Years: 2012-2017 was released on Tuesday after its final draft was approved by Mukherjee before his death in August 2020.

The former president also disapproved of Modi playing up his personal friendship with global leaders. "I totally oppose the expressions of personal friendships (Abe called Modi his most dependable friend), because friendships are between countries. I do not subscribe to the belief that such special friendships have any worth when it comes to international relationships, where every relationship is impersonal," Mukherjee said in the book.

Elaborating the point, he says his friendship with Bangladesh was completely political but his ties with PM Sheikh Hasina during her time in exile were personal. "Personally, I believe that PM Modi plays up personal equations too much. To take such relationships as true is a bit absurd," he wrote.

However, he heaped praise on Modi for being quick to understand the nuances of foreign policy despite "absolutely no experience" in foreign affairs. "Foreign policy was a truly unchartered territory for him. But he did what no PM had attempted before: invite the heads of State of SAARC nations to his oath-taking ceremony. His out-of-the-box initiative took many foreign policy veterans by surprise. I felt that the gesture of inviting the neighbouring countries was a good one and that if we could keep up this momentum, we could have vastly improved ties with our neighbours," the former president wrote.

On ties with Pakistan, Mukherjee said the main difficulty was the negative thoughts that Islamabad continues to harbour against India.

The former president also said he wouldn't refer to Pakistan as an enemy country. "No country is an enemy unless we are at war with it."

Mukherjee has also said that it's the responsibility of both India and China to ensure that a Doklam-like situation is not created.

Shah to visit Bengal to assure Matuas on CAA

The community's support is crucial for the BJP in upcoming polls

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah is likely to visit Thakurbari, the headquarters of Matua's religious organisation at Bongaon in North 24 Parganas, to address the concerns of the Matua community on the implementation of the Citizenship Amendment Act (CAA), sources said.

Matuas, who are Hindu refugees from Bangladesh, have demanded that Shah visit their headquarters and give them a deadline as to when they will get the Indian citizenship. Shantanu Thakur, the BJP MP from Bongaon representing the Matuas, said the community is confused as to when the CAA will be implemented and whether they would get Indian citizenship—a promise the BJP made before the 2019 Lok Sabha elections, which helped the party secure Matuas votes.

Matuas are waiting to hear Shah as he played the key role to get the contentious act passed in both the houses of Parliament

Shantanu Thakur, BJP MP

After both Shah and the BJP's national president JP Nadda, during their recent Bengal visits, dodged questions related to the party's citizenship promise for Mathuas, the community members became anxious.

Both the national leaders said the process of CAA's implementation was getting delayed because of the Covid-19 pandemic.

Thakur, on several occasions, expressed his discontent, saying if the BJP doesn't keep its words before the upcoming Assembly elections, no one can say what will be Matuas political alignment. To pacify Thakur's discontent, senor BJP functionaries in Bengal held a meeting with him.

"Matuas are waiting to hear Shah as he played the key role to get the contentious act passed in both the houses of Parliament," said Thakur.

The BJP's national leadership decided to send Shah to Bongaon as Matuas and Dalits, who also migrated from Bangladesh, have strong presence in some of the pockets of the state. They can change the political landscape in at least 55 Assembly constituencies. In 2019, the Matua community voted en bloc for BJP candidates. Thakur bagged victory with a margin of more than one lakh votes.

Owaisi's alliance with cleric upsets imams

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

THE West Bengal Imam Association said on Wednesday that it will hit the streets against AIMIM's decision to participate in the upcoming Assembly elections with Islamic cleric Abbas Siddiqui.

The imam's body alleged that the AIMIM chief Asaduddin Owaisi is venturing into Bengal's electoral arena with a goal to ensure dividend in favour of the BJP in the next year's elections.

The imam's organisation also said it would form a new organisation and contest the upcoming elections to resist AIMIM and Abbas, if necessary.

The ruling Trinamool Congress enjoys the support of the state's Muslim community, which forms more than 30 per cent of the total electorates. The community switched to the TMC's fold in 2011 Assembly elections decimating the Left Front.

On January 3, Owaisi visited Furfura Sharif and met Siddiqui, signalling AIMIM's entry in the fray in 2021, when Assembly elections are due in the state. The entry of AIMIM and alliance with Abbas is said to be aimed to chip away at the minority vote share of the TMC. Both the TMC and the CPI(M) described Owaisi as BJP's proxy. After an impressive show in last year's Bihar elections, the AIMIM is now eyeing the upcoming Bengal polls. The party is keen to leave its footprint on West Bengal, sources said.

Paid bribe, says crematorium contractor

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

CONTRACTOR Ajay Tyagi, who was arrested in connection with a roof collapse in Uttar Pradesh cremation ground that killed 25 people, told the police that he secured the contract to construct the shed by bribing Muradnagar Municipal Board officials to the tune of ₹16 lakh.

Tyagi, arrested on Monday night, was sent to jail on 14-day judicial remand on Tuesday.

As per police sources, Tyagi said there was a convention of paying about 28-30 per cent commission to get the contract.

Taygi admitted that he got the contract in February 2020 for ₹55 lakh through an online tender process. He received the first installment of payment to the tune of ₹26 lakh in March 2020, and thereafter, the second installment of ₹16 lakh in July.

He was then asked by JE Chandrapal Singh to pay Rs 16 lakh in the office of Muradnagar Nagar Palika Executive Officer Niharika Singh and he allegedly followed the suit. Tyagi claimed he was supposed to give advance commission of at least 28-30 per cent to secure the contract and get the funds released.

He said he was given two months' time to complete the project. As the time to complete the project was to short, Tyagi had to rope in another firm-AS Constructions - owned by his acquaintance Sanjay Garg to meet the deadline. Tyagi admitted that he had used sub-standard material in the construction of shed to meet the cost, police said.

Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath has ordered a probe by the SIT of Economic Offences Wing into the incident. The SIT will probe the entire incident, including the construction work, sources said, adding a detailed report has been sought

Classes V-XII to reopen in Punjab today; January 18 date for Rajasthan

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chandigarh,/Jaipur/Dehradun

ALL schools for Class V to XII will reopen in Punjab on Thursday, while higher educational institutions, coaching centres as well as schools start functioning from January 18 in Rajasthan. Universities and colleges in another northern state, Uttarakhand, will reopen in the first week of February.

All these states will ensure restrictions apart from the SOPs related to Covid for reopening schools, colleges and universities. In Rajasthan, schools will only allow Classes IX to XII students, while final-year students of degree courses will attend classes in colleges and universities.

Punjab school education minister Vijay Inder Singla said the government has decided to reopen schools from January 7 following the persistent demand of parents. Schools timings have been fixed from 10 am to 3 pm. Singla said the education department had taken feedback from the school heads and, besides ensuring safety of the children, they have also suggested the department to reopen the schools before the annual exams for final revision of studies.

After a review meeting, Rajasthan CM Ashok Gehlot announced that educational institutions could start functioning in the improved scenario which is better than about a month ago. The Covid recovery rate is 96.31% in the state, with some districts reporting almost no cases. Classes will only have 50% of the total strength of students on each day on an alternate basis. However, medical colleges, dental colleges, nursing colleges and paramedical colleges will reopen from January 11 in view of the upcoming plan for Covid vaccination. Teachers will also be given special training by the health department, said Rajasthan officials.

The Rajasthan government's decision is being widely welcomed in the coaching hub of Kota even as many parents struck a wary note on allowing their children to go out for classes. "We will enforce all protocols prescribed by the government," said Naveen, Maheshwari director, Allen Career Institute.

State seeks inputs from schools

The State Education minister Vijay Inder Singla said following the CM's directions, all school authorities have been asked to strictly comply with Covid precautions. The government had taken feedback from school heads.

J&K houseboats opens up for stranded tourists

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

IN view of the continued closure of Valley's surface and air link with rest of the country, the houseboats and hotels have opened their properties for the stranded passengers. They are offering 50 per cent rebate to the tourists, who were to leave the Valley in last four days, but got stuck due to the closure of Srinagar-Jammu national highway and the suspension of air traffic at Srinagar airport.

Kashmir Houseboat Owners Association President Abdul Hamid Wangnoo told this newspaper that the houseboat owners have opened up their houseboats for the tourists stranded due to suspension of Valley's surface and air link with the rest of the country. Due to heavy snowfall since Sunday, Srinagar-Jammu national highway, the only link road connecting Kashmir with rest of the country, remained closed for fourth consecutive day today while the flights at Srinagar airport also remained suspended since Sunday. The tourists had thronged the Valley to celebrate the new year at the famous ski resort of Gulmarg.

"We have provided our helpline Nos and made some of our houseboats at Nageen and Dal Lake available to stranded tourists free of cost," Wagnoo said. He said the tourists who had already booked the houseboats, but were supposed to check out in last four days have been told to continue their stay in the houseboats."We will be giving them upto 50 per cent rebate. And in case, somebody does not have money to pay the bill, he/she does not need to worry," Wagnoo said.

Embarrassed by nasty quip, BJP says sorry to Cong leader

VINEET UPADHYAY @Dehradun

AFTER Uttarakhand Chief Minister apologised to the leader of opposition and Congress MLA Indira Hridayesh over budhiya (old woman) remark, BJP state president also took to Twitter to 'respectfully take his statement back'.

Bhartiya Janta Party state president Bansidhar Bhagat wrote on Twitter, "Indira Hridayesh ji is respected leader of the state and verbal exchanges are natural due to electoral territory being the same. I did not intend to hurt her personally, if she is hurt I take my statement respectfully."

Uttarakhand Chief Minister Trivendra Singh Rawat went public to apologise to Hridayesh after backlash on Bhagat's statement in which he called her 'Budhiya' (old lady) and 'Doobta Jahaz' (Sinking Ship).

"Respected Indira Hridayesh ji, I am sad beyond anything today. Women are highly respectable to us. I personally apologise to you and all others who are saddened by this like me. I will speak to you personally and offer my humble apologies again," tweeted the CM.

"Humari neta-pratipaksha keh rahi bahut se vidhayak humare sampark me hain. Are budhiya! tujhse kyun sampark karenge? Doobte jahaz se koi sampark karega? (Our Leader of Opposition says that several MLAs are in touch with us. Why would they contact you old woman? What would one want to do with a sinking ship?)," the BJP president had said. Retorting to this, Hridayesh said that she was hurt with the kind of language used

Maha cuts construction premium for projects by 50% in push for real estate

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

MAHARASHTRA cabinet on Wednesday cut down the premium charges on construction by 50 per cent till December 31, 2021. But, the developers who avail this scheme are not allowed to charge the stamp duty and registration fees from buyers.

"It is the win-win situation for the buyers and developers," said Shiv Sena minister. The move is expected to give a boost to the real estate sector in the state.

The state government has approved a reduction in premiums by 50 per cent under the new DCPR rule 2034 across the board for on-going and new projects up to December 31, 2021.

Municipalities charge this premium on Floor space index or FSI which is construction allowed on a plot of land. Maharashtra government had appointed Deepak Parekh committee to study the real estate sector and recommend suggestions to boost the property sector and economy as well.

Farshid Cooper, MD, Spenta corporation said, this is a very encouraging announcement at the start of the year by the Maharashtra Government.

TELEMARKETING

Sale of items with 'supernatural' powers banned

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

THE Bombay High Court has banned the sale of items that claim to possess miraculous or supernatural powers via television advertisement.

The Aurangabad bench of the court, comprising Justice Tanaji Nalawade and Justice Mukund Sewlikar ruled that TV advertisements of such items, would be punishable under the Maharashtra Prevention and Eradication of Human Sacrifice and Inhuman, Evil and Aghori Practices and Black Magic Act, 2013.

The court was ruling on a petition seeking a ban on such advertisements on TV channels. The petitioner, in his plea stated that he came across advertisements on TV channels for articles like Hanuman Chalisa yantra claiming they possessed special, miraculous properties/qualities.

The petetioner citied the advertiser's claim that the yantra was prepared by Baba Mangalnath, who had achieved Siddhi. The petitioner argued that such advertisements pushed false propaganda and exploited people, who are superstitious by nature. The court observed that, "Due to this superstitious approach of the educated and the uneducated persons alike, they are being exploited by so-called Babas by selling articles by giving them names like Yantra, Ganda etc."

Pupils welcome reopening of their schools

China bristles as Trump bans apps

BEIJING

CHINA on Wednesday accused the US of misusing national security as an excuse to hurt commercial competitors after President Donald Trump signed an order banning transactions with payment services Alipay and WeChat Pay and six other apps.

Tuesday's order escalated a conflict with Beijing over technology, security and spying accusations that has plunged US-Chinese relations to their lowest level in decades. "This is another example of the US's bullying, arbitrary and hegemonic behaviour," said foreign ministry spokesperson Hua Chunying. Alipay is part of the empire of billionaire Jack Ma, founder of e-commerce giant Alibaba Group and financial platform Ant Group. WeChat Pay is operated by rival tech giant Tencent. The others named in the order are CamScanner, QQ Wallet, SHAREit, Tencent QQ, VMate and WPS Office.

"This is an example of the United States over-generalising the concept of national security." AP

Hack was likely done by Russia: US Intel agencies

WASHINGTON

US intelligence and law enforcement agencies said Tuesday that Russia was probably behind the massive SolarWinds hack that has shaken government and corporate security, contradicting President Donald Trump, who had suggested China could be to blame.

A joint statement by the FBI, Directorate of National Intelligence, the National Security Agency and Cybersecurity and Infrastructure Security Agency outlined their findings in what experts have called the most devastating break in US computer security in years. Their investigation "indicates that an Advanced Persistent Threat (APT) actor, likely Russian in origin," they said. AFP

Pence refuses to overturn polls

Despite Trump's urging, V-P doesn't bend on certification of Electoral vote

WASHINGTON

US Vice President Mike Pence, in defiance of President Donald Trump, said Wednesday that he will not intervene to stop the certification by Congress of Democrat Joe Biden's election victory.

"The Constitution constrains me from claiming unilateral authority to determine which electoral votes should be counted and which should not," Pence said in a statement released as a joint session of Congress began to certify the Electoral College votes from the November 3 election.

The statement was released as Trump urged Pence at a rally in Washington to decline to certify the Electoral College results.

Trump's extraordinary effort to overturn the presidential election is going before Congress as lawmakers convene for a joint session to confirm the Electoral College vote won by Joe Biden.

The typically routine proceeding Wednesday will be anything but, a political confrontation unseen to such intensity since the aftermath of the Civil War, as Trump mounts a desperate effort to stay in office. The president's Republican allies in the House and Senate plan to object to the election results, heeding supporters' plea to "fight for Trump" as he stages a rally outside the White House. It's tearing the party apart.

On the Washington Monument grounds on Wednesday, a Trump supporter holds a sign saying "Trump is the party" during a rally in support of the outgoing president | AP

The last-gasp effort is all but certain to fail, defeated by bipartisan majorities in Congress prepared to accept the November results. Biden, who won the Electoral College 306-232, is to be inaugurated Jan. 20.

The joint session of Congress, required by law, will convene at 1 p.m. EST before a watchful, restless nation — months after the election, two weeks before the inauguration's traditional peaceful transfer of power and against the backdrop of a surging pandemic.

Lawmakers were told by Capitol officials to arrive early, due to safety precautions with protesters in Washington. Hundreds of Trump supporters gathered around the Capitol, filling the plaza area and sidewalks, many bearing enormous flags and few wearing masks.. Visitors, who typically fill the galleries to watch landmark proceedings, will not be allowed under COVID-19 restrictions.

The session also comes as overnight results from Georgia's runoff elections put Democrats within reach of a Senate majority. The current majority leader, Mitch McConnell, who tried to warn his Republican Party off this challenge, was expected to deliver early remarks.

German govt to approve women's quota for big companies' boards

BERLIN

GERMAN listed companies must include women on executive boards as part of a landmark bill agreed by the country's coalition government after voluntary efforts failed to close a gender gap.

Listed companies with four executives or more must appoint at least one woman to their boards, according to a draft law to be voted on by parliament.

With the new legislation, Germany is "one step closer" to the goal of equal opportunities and equal rights, Finance Minister Olaf Scholz said. The women's quota is "overdue" and the time for voluntary measures is "finally over", he added.

German Chancellor Angela Merkel (R) and Finance Minister Olaf Scholz (C) | AP

Europe's largest economy fares relatively poorly in terms of representation of women in senior positions, particularly striking in a country led by the world's longest-serving elected female leader.

Chancellor Angela Merkel, in power since 2005, has spoken out at foot-dragging by business leaders, against the resistance of some in her own conservative bloc.

The boss of her CDU party's economic council, Astrid Hamker, last year called the idea of a quota system "completely counterproductive", and said diversity should be "not according to gender, but rather competence". AFP

Airwaves worth ₹3.92 lakh crore set to go under the hammer, expensive hi-speed 700 MHz band may not attract much bidding

Next spectrum auction round to begin March 1

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Department of Telecommunications (DoT) on Wednesday announced the dates and guidelines for the next round of auctions for spectrum. While this round will not see any 5G airwaves going under the hammer, around ₹3.92 lakh crore worth spectrum across seven frequency bands will be up for grabs on March 1.

According to the DoT notice, the pre-bid conference will be held on January 12, and January 28 has been set as the last date for seeking clarifications on the procedures. Telecom operators will need to submit their applications by February 5 if they intend to participate in the bidding. The final list of the bidders will be declared on February 24 and the auction process is slated to begin from March 1.

Successful bidders opting for full upfront payment will need to do so within 10 days of declaration of the result. There is also an option of instalments, in which case successful bidders will need to make an upfront payment of 50 per cent in the case of 1800 MHz, 2100 MHz, 2300 MHz, and 2500 MHz bands, and 25 per cent in case of 700 MHz, 800 MHz and 900 MHz bands within 10 days from the date of the DoT notice.

In addition to the bid amount, successful bidders will also have to pay three per cent of the adjusted gross revenue (AGR), excluding wireline services, as spectrum usage charges for the spectrum won through this auction.

Going by the DoT's official statement, spectrum in seven bands can be bid for: 700 MHz, 800 MHz, 900 MHz, 1800 MHz, 2100 MHz, 2300 MHz and 2500 MHz bands. The 3,300-3,600 MHz band generally identified for 5G transmissions has been kept out of this round.

According to the reserve prices set for auction, bidders opting for spectrum in the 700 Mhz band will have to shell out at least ₹32,905 crore on a pan-India basis. While this band is considered more capable that the 3G 2100 MHz band and is pricier, analysts do not expect much bidding for this batch. According to ratings agency Icra, the total bids received for the current round is likely to be ₹55,000-60,000 crore.

SBI to keep status quo on RCom loans

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Delhi High Court on Wednesday directed the State Bank of India (SBI) and banking regulator Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to maintain status quo with regard to accounts of Anil Ambani-owned Reliance Communications (Rcom), Reliance Telecom, and Reliance Infratel which have been classified as "fraud" accounts by the state-run lender.

The court passed the order while hearing a petition by Reliance Communications' erstwhile director Punit Garg, who challenged the central bank's 2016 circular regarding the declaration of the accounts as fraud. Garg argued that the circular violates the principles of natural justice without granting the parties any opportunity to be heard. The bank, meanwhile, said its audit division has found evidence of diversion of funds and such other irregularities.

In view of the orders passed earlier by the high court in similar matters, Justice Prateek Jalan directed the State Bank of India to "maintain status quo till next date of hearing" with regard to the accounts of the three companies.

The court went on to add that SBI and RBI were at liberty to take any steps in the nature of an investigation or filing of complaints, or similar proceedings against the erstwhile directors and the three companies independent of the impugned action of declaring the accounts of the three companies as fraud accounts.

This could open up the possibility of a CBI probe since rules mandate that banks should file a complaint with the Central Bureau of Investigation if the amount involved in the fraud is above ₹1 crore.

The court further said that the respondents, including the RBI and the Anil Ambani-group three companies, were at liberty to file their replies to the petition by January 11 and listed the matter for hearing on January 13.

Bharti Airtel moves Supreme Court over calculation of payable AGR dues

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TELECOM major Bharti Airtel has approached the Supreme Court seeking a direction allowing the Department of Telecommunications (DoT) to "finalise" the assessment of AGR dues payable "after taking into account" its representations on the matter.

In a petition filed on December 31, 2020, Bharti Airtel prayed that the SC "modify/clarify/recall the orders" dated March 18, 2020, that had ruled that the final amount due and payable by Airtel was ₹43,980 crore, which was based on an annexure filed along with DoT's earlier modification application. "Permit the respondent to proceed with and finalise the assessments after taking into account the representations made by the applicants in this respect and determine the total amount due and payable," it said.

In September last year, an SC bench of Justices Arun Mishra, S Abdul Nazeer, and MR Shah had directed telcos to pay 10 per cent of their pending AGR dues upfront and pay the rest in annual instalments up to March 31, 2031. The bench had also said that there was to be no re-assessment of these dues.

However, a person with knowledge of Airtel's petition said that in this instance, the company was only requesting that the "respondent, the DoT, be allowed to fully finish its calculations" on the amount that is to be payable by the company. Sources also say that sector peer Vodafone Idea may follow suit.

So far, Bharti Airtel has paid ₹18,004 crore of its dues, while Vodafone Idea has paid ₹7,854 crore, and according to the earlier SC order, they have to still pay the DoT another ₹25,976 crore and ₹50,400 crore respectively. Bharti Airtel did not offer any comment.

MP, Andhra get extra financial assistance of ₹1,004 crore

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Centre has granted additional financial assistance of ₹1,004 crore to the states of Madhya Pradesh and Andhra Pradesh after the two governments completed three out of the four citizen-centric reforms required for extra assistance.

Andhra Pradesh will get an additional amount of ₹344 crore while Madhya Pradesh has become entitled to receive ₹660 crore for capital projects, the finance ministry said, adding that they have become the first group of states to complete three out of the four prioritised citizen-centric reforms.

The two states have so far completed the One Nation, One Ration Card Reforms, Ease of Doing Business Reforms, and Urban Local Bodies Reforms, the Ministry of Finance said in a statement on Wednesday.

"Consequent upon completion of reforms in the three sectors, the Department of Expenditure, Ministry of Finance has decided to provide additional financial assistance amounting to ₹1,004 crore to these states under the newly launched Scheme of Special Assistance to States for Capital Expenditure," the ministry statement said.

The Centre had announced that it would offer ₹12,000 crore in special interest-free 50-year loans to states, exclusively for capital expenditure, as part of the AatmaNirbhar Bharat Package 2.0 announced in October last year. The additional financial assistance for capital expenditure is in addition to the permission granted to these States for extra borrowings up to ₹14,694 crore.

QUALITY CHECK

Q3 BANK EARNINGS TO SHED LIGHT ON SECTOR RECOVERY

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE banking sector only had a few months experience with the pandemic when it last tried to forecast how bad things would get. The earnings release for the third quarter (October-December, 2020) is likely to be a true performance test for whether the Indian economy is recovering, with analysts expecting that this will be the first quarter of positive GDP growth since the outbreak of Covid-19.

In the previous two quarters, the two key issues surrounding the quality of bank earnings were bad loan recognition and provisions. The loan moratorium prevented true asset classification; banks made higher contingent provisions, and there was limited visibility on the loan book status. Experts say that stress recognition, provisions, and the recovery cycle will dominate conversations this quarter. "Banks have been vigilant in approving restructuring and how much stress (after a couple of quarters of non-recognition) flows as slippages will be key. We expect 4-7 per cent slippage in Q3FY21," said analysts from ICICI Securities.

Currently, the Supreme Court's order restrains banks from tagging standard assets as non-performing loans (NPL). But banks will disclose pro forma NPLs and make upfront specific provisioning on this incremental stress. Most private banks and the State Bank of India have built up sufficient provisions and capital buffers to cope with the impending stress. "This coupled with provisioning on the restructured pool will keep credit cost elevated at 2-4 per cent," the analysts added. Total restructuring requests are also much lower at ₹2 lakh crore compared to the estimates of ₹8 lakh crore.

In terms of credit growth, banks may see a 3-4 per cent increase sequentially translating to 7-9 per cent growth over the previous year. According to the latest available data (December 18, 2020) for the banking system, loan growth has remained sluggish at 5-7 per cent year-on-year since the onset of Covid, compared to 8-10 per cent a year ago. There is also an element of capitalization of interest reflecting in overall loan growth numbers. In its business update, private sector HDFC Bank said it has witnessed 19 per cent loan growth in Q3 FY21.

Shifting consumer patterns boost e-grocery biz

BISMAH MALIK @ Bengaluru

A Covid-induced shift in consumer behaviour gave the e-grocery segment wings in 2020, with the channel now accounting for 6 per cent of India's overall online retail sales, according to Forrester research.

E-grocery sales have more than doubled over the past year and the momentum is likely to continue. Not only has the segment seen large players like Amazon, Flipkart expanding beyond tier-II and III towns , niche platforms have also surpassed pre-Covid revenues. According to Bigbasket, its new customers grew 84% in 2020.

With health and hygiene on the top of many minds, there has also been a gradual shift in eating more home-cooked food than before, which has in turn contributed to increased sales of fresh produce (fruits, vegetables) on these platforms.

"There has been a significant change in consumer behaviour since March 2020," noted Seshu Kumar Tirumala, National Category Head of Bigbasket, adding that the convenience and safety that home delivery offers has helped it record the 84 per ecnt increase in new customers. This has also been accompanied by "excellent retention rates and basket sizes", Tirumala pointed out.

With basic essentials such as groceries currently constituting nearly half of the wallet size of the online shopper, and the likelihood that work-from-home policies are not set to go away in a hurry, analysts expect the positive momentum for segment to continue—at least for the first half of 2021.

According to experts, the market is also likely to see major consolidation with the entry of large companies such as Reliance Industries and Tata. RIL is reportedly likely to acquire start-up Milkbasket whereas the Tatas are said to be in last stage talks to acquire more than 30 per cent in Bigbasket.

Home sales grow 84% in Q4 2020, demand back to pre-Covid levels

NEW DELHI: Home sales across 8 cities witnessed a growth of 84 per cent quarter-on-quarter in Q4 CY2020 and demand is now back to pre-Covid level, property consultant Knight Frank India said on Wednesday. During the October-December 2020 quarter, housing sales rose to 61,592 units from 58,402 units in the year-ago period, while office absorption increased to 17.5 million sq ft.

Titan jewellery division recovers from Covid, enters growth phase

NEW DELHI: Titan on Wednesday said its jewellery division has recovered from Covid and has entered the growth phase while other divisions have moved closer to full recovery. The company had reported an unprecedented net loss of ₹297 crore in the April-June quarter due to the pandemic. Its standalone net profit declined 37.81 per cent to ₹199 crore for the second quarter.

Services PMI drops for second straight month in Dec, job shedding resumes

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

AFTER showing some signs of revival, service sector growth fell for the second time in a row in December on account of a spike in Covid-19 cases and firms halting hiring due to liquidity concerns.

The Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) for the services sector dropped to 52.3 in December from 53.7 in November, according to data released by IHS Markit.

Even as the companies were optimistic that output would increase in 2021, overall positive sentiment fell compared to November.

"Anecdotal evidence suggested that optimism was curbed by uncertainty surrounding the covid-19 pandemic, rupee depreciation and inflationary pressures. Input costs increased to the greatest extent since February," IHS Markit said, adding, "Job shedding was resumed in December, with some firms mentioning that liquidity problems, labour shortages and subdued demand caused the latest fall in employment".

On a sectoral basis, while transport and storage, consumer services, and finance and insurance remained the bright spots during the month, contractions were seen in information and communication, and real estate and business services, the report pointed out.

Start-ups cheer as investors pour in $500 million over one week

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

2021 has begun on a positive note for the Indian start-up ecosystem with three start-ups raising nearly $500 million in just the first week. B2B e-marketplace Udaan on Wednesday said, for instance, that it has raised $280 million at a $ 3.1 billion valuation from two new investors—Octahedron Capital and Moonstone Capital. The round also saw participation from existing investors Lightspeed Venture Partners, DST Global, GGV Capital, Altimeter Capital, and Tencent.

Home-grown wearable startup boAT had also said this week that New York-based Warburg Pincus has invested $100 million in the company at a $300 million valuation. To cap off the trio, credits card payments platform CRED has also announced that it has raised $81 million at a valuation of $806 million.

The influx of funds comes at a time when startups are aggressively pushing expansion plans, penetrating into newer markets, and onboarding consumers. Udaan's co-founder and CEO Amod Malviya said that "Covid-19 has accelerated the already fast digital-led evolution of highly fragmented and unorganized Indian trade industry. At the same time, the pandemic also highlighted the unique structure of Indian economy, with millions of kiranas and neighbourhood stores becoming the lifeline of our country at the time of crisis." Malviya said that the latest financing will Udaan's expansion plans.

FALLING SHORT

Only 4% of targetted electric 2W sales achieved under FAME-II

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Centre's ambitious target of having one million high-speed electric two-wheelers on the road by March 2022, set under the FAME-2 scheme, is likely to fall short by a large margin. As of December 2020, only 4 per cent of the sales target has been achieved.

The actual cumulative sales of electric two-wheelers since January 2019 stands at 52,959 units. Under the Faster Adoption and Manufacturing of Hybrid and Electric Vehicles (FAME 2) Scheme, launched in April 2019, only 31,813 electric two-wheelers had been able to qualify for incentives as of December 2020, according to data provided by Society of Manufacturers of Electric Vehicles (SMEV) on Wednesday.

"The FAME 2 scheme had some good points and laudable objectives but came with so many strings attached, most of them introduced prematurely or unnecessarily, that lead to the achievement of only 4 per cent of the stated targets. The scheme could not attract the customers to shift from polluting petrol bikes to electric two-wheelers, mainly because the preconditions and qualification criteria of FAME 2 made the bikes unaffordable to the mass market customer despite the subsidy," said Sohinder Gill, Director General, SMEV.

The association noted that while the industry has been able to weather the Covid pandemic—sales of high speed electric two wheelers in the January to December 2020 period clocked in at 25,735 units—the ambitious target of generating sales of one million under FAME 2 is nowhere in sight. Despite the setback, the segment is witnessing a very high level of interest from customers, Gill pointed out, adding that if FAME 2 is rejigged to remove the needless handicaps, adoption could grow exponentially.

In a recent interview with TNIE, Naveen Munjal, MD, Hero Electric had said that the government has to do some course correction in policies governing high-speed versus low-speed models.

Ganguly extends hospital stay, to be discharged today

BCCI chief captain Sourav Ganguly, who underwent angioplasty following a mild heart attack, is now stable and will be discharged from the hospital on Thursday, an official at the facility where he is admitted said. Ganguly was supposed to be discharged from the hospital on Wednesday, but he expressed the desire to stay there for one more day, the official said.

READY TO CHANGE AND CHARGE

Eyes on new boys as India look to secure Sydney Test; take lead in four-match series Down Under

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

EVEN before the first Test began in Adelaide, India had lost the services of Bhuvneshwar Kumar (63 wickets in 21 Tests) and Ishant Sharma (297 in 97). Since then, they have lost Mohammed Shami (180 in 50), Umesh Yadav (148 in 48) and Virat Kohli (7318 runs in 87 Tests). That's 688 wickets and 7,318 runs to be precise. To replace them in the squad, they added Shardul Thakur (zero wickets, 10 balls), T Natarajan (0 Tests), Mohammed Siraj (0 Tests), Navdeep Saini (0 Tests) and Shubman Gill (0 Tests). In between all this, they managed to be bowled out for their lowest ever Test score (36) in 88 years of playing the format.

Through all that churn, through all the setbacks, the visitors have played the kind of bloody-minded, elite-level cricket that's allowed them to retain hopes of keeping the Border-Gavaskar Trophy. Forget the scoreline; it says 1-1 but barring one freak session, they have had the upper hand throughout the two matches. How did they do it? Attacking, unorthodox fields and changing the line while bowling, eschewing the tendency to play away from the body while batting and putting faith in greenhorns to come good.

The battle between R Ashwin and Steve Smith and Marnus Labuschagne, in a microcosm, can sum the series so far. The former, who hasn't always delivered while playing away from home, has had both of them hopping up and down in discomfort. It's almost like an errant housefly disturbing their peace but escaping without getting caught. Here's the numbers to prove this point: to the pair, he has sent down 120 deliveries, given 45 runs, conceded one boundary and dismissed them four times.

To borrow a phraseology from the Nathan Lyon and Dale Steyn school of aggressive small talk, Ashwin has cut the heads of the snake, rendering the rest of the body ineffective. Ashwin's effectiveness (he leads the wickets (10) column with Pat Cummins) was touched upon by Ajinkya Rahane in the pre-match press conference.

Rohit Sharma during a training session on Wednesday | AFP

"He is always looking to learn new things," the skipper said. "He has good skills but is always looking to learn new things and that's what makes Ashwin great. I hope that he continues for the next two Tests and do the job for us."

This battle, one suspects, will be the key to winning the third Test. It's a point multiple members in the Australian camp — Matthew Wade, Justin Langer and Tim Paine — have also addressed in the last few days. Even if the inclusion of the proactive David Warner could help the the hosts, the visitors seemingly have multiple plans up their sleeves.

With respect to the Indian batting, Rahane will hope the addition of Rohit Sharma, who will open with Gill, will stem the tide of early wickets. The average first and second wicket partnerships across the four innings has been 5.75 runs (0, 7, 0 and 16) and 26 (8, 32, 61 and 3). That's effectively 2/32, a situation they had rather avoid.

With rain and overhead cloud conditions coming into the equation, at least on the first two days, Sydney promises to be yet another fascinating Test. The incentive for India is simple: win and retain Border-Gavaskar Trophy..

ATHLETICS CHIEF COACH SPEAKS

'Hima should qualify for 200m in Olympics'

INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

ALL walks of life has crawled to some kind of normalcy. So did sports. Training is back and so are some select competitions. However, for the Indian athletics squad, it's far from over. No competition, no training during lockdown, and now with the Olympics less than 200 days away, newly-appointed national chief coach Radhakrishnan Nair is facing challenging times. From India's qualification hopes to Hima Das not running 400m relay, he bares it all during an interview over phone to this daily. Excerpts:

Taking charge during Covid times must be tough?

I must admit, when I took over it was a very challenging situation. Even now, it is the same. The key thing was to keep our athletes fit mentally rather than physically. Of course, during the complete lockdown also, our athletes were bound to Tokyo (and Tokyo hopefuls) were able to do some fitness training inside their hostels. We then resumed training in a restricted manner, gradually allowed to use gym and so on. Things are going on as per the planning commission, the coaches and experts. It is going on smooth. We are right now planning to have some competitions in February, though it is not confirmed as yet.

Will you get fewer events for Tokyo qualification?

As of today, most of the senior competitions are on. The Asian race walking championships have been cancelled. We have Asian championships in May. World relay is as per schedule (May). There are some invitational competitions in June in Kazakhstan and Kyrgistan. We have our domestic meets.

Where do we stand on the qualifying prospects of the relay teams (the mixed team has qualified)

In 400m men and women's, we are in a comfortable position now because of the world rankings (India are 12th in both). We have the world relay championships in May. If it happens, I am sure we will attain the qualification standards. We are focussing on the 4x100m women also. Another focus is on our javelin throwers. Two have qualified in men's (Neeraj Chopra and Shivpal Singh). Annu Rani has a good world ranking in women's. In shot put, Tejinder Pal Singh Toor should qualify. Sreeshankar M (long jump) too. Avinash Sable (steeplechase) has already qualified.

Have you identified your core 4x400m relay team?

Identifying will be the last part of our work. We are training a bunch of athletes — 13 men and 12 women. We will assess their performances in the coming competitions before deciding.

Will Hima Das run 400m this year?

We have not started the training for 400m so we don't expect that she will be running 4x400 mixed relay. She will definitely be running 4x100m relay and she should definitely qualify for 200m individual.

CA and BCCI headed for talks over Brisbane Test

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

THE future of the fourth Border-Gavaskar Trophy Test in Brisbane hangs in the balance as the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) and Cricket Australia are headed for talks soon. The crux of the issue is with regards to restricted movement in Brisbane, which bars the side from even stepping out of their rooms.

The Indian team has been discontent about these new restrictions which has even ensured that they cannot step out of their hotel in Sydney. With Queensland shutting its borders with New South Wales because of the spike in Covid-19 cases, the CA were forced to restrict the movement of both the teams to hotel and SCG so that it can go to Brisbane without hassle. This was not part of the initial plan. However, recent spike in Sydney made them to alter plan.

India's stand-in captain was asked about the issue, Ajinkya Rahane said, "Being in quarantine definitely has its own challenges, but as a team we are focussing on the game. We know that life outside in Sydney is normal but players are in quarantine, which is a challenge. We are not complaining." It is understood that CA has assured the BCCI that there won't be any hard quarantining in Brisbane, but the Indian team is seeking written guarantees.

Saina & Co get licence to train

ANMOL GURUNG @Chennai

A day after ace shuttler Saina Nehwal voiced her displeasure over restricted training in Bangkok, the Badminton World Federation (BWF) announced that all 824 Asian Leg participants in the green zone quarantine bubble have tested negative for Covid-19. This means that all shuttlers are cleared for training.

"Players are now cleared for training under strict safety protocols. The quarantine measures will be in place throughout the mandatory 14-day observation period," the BWF said.

Kasatkina wins as WTA season kicks off

ABU DHABI: Daria Kasatkina and Maria Sakkari won their opening matches Wednesday as the women's tennis season began at the Abu Dhabi Open. The WTA set up the Abu Dhabi tournament last month to give players more time to prepare for the Australian Open, which was postponed from its usual January dates to mid-February amid the coronavirus pandemic. Kasatkina was the first winner of the new season, getting the better of Wang Qiang 6-2, 3-6, 6-2.

BFC part ways with coach Cuadrat

NEW DELHI: FOLLOWING Bengaluru FC's run of three consecutive losses, Carles Cuadrat became the ISL's first managerial casualty of the seventh season. The 2018-19 champions announced they are parting ways with the Spaniard by mutual consent. Assistant coach Naushad Moosa will take charge as the interim head coach with immediate effect. Meanwhile, FC Goa managed to grab a point after a hard-fought 1-1 draw against SC East Bengal in Vasco.

Jamieson leads NZ to innings win over Pak

CHRISTCHURCH: Paceman Kyle Jamieson took 6-48 as New Zealand beat Pakistan by an innings and 176 runs in the second Test Wednesday to claim its fourth win in four Tests at home this summer.

Brief scores: Pakistan 297 & 186 (Azhar Ali 37; Jamieson 6/48) lost to NZ 659/6d.

EUROPE GREENLIGHTS MODERNA'S VACCINE

Announcement comes after the world saw a record 15,700 deaths in the past 24 hours; vaccine rollout continues at uneven pace

MEDICINE

BRUSSELS: The European Union's executive commission gave the green light Wednesday to Moderna Inc.'s COVID-19 vaccine, providing the 27-nation bloc with a second vaccine to use in the desperate battle to tame the virus rampaging across the continent.

The European Commission granted conditional marketing authorization for the vaccine. The decision came against a backdrop of high infection rates in many EU countries and strong criticism of the slow pace of vaccinations across the region of some 450 million people.

"We are providing more COVID-19 vaccines for Europeans. With the Moderna vaccine, the second one now authorized in the EU, we will have a further 160 million doses. And more vaccines will come," European Commission President Ursula von der Leyen said in a statement.

The EMA recommended the conditional authorization following a meeting earlier Wednesday.

"This vaccine provides us with another tool to overcome the current emergency," said EMA Executive Director Emer Cooke. "It is a testament to the efforts and commitment of all involved that we have this second positive vaccine recommendation just short of a year since the pandemic was declared by WHO."

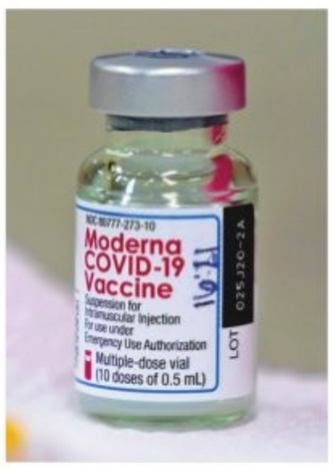
The EMA last month granted the same conditional approval to a coronavirus vaccine made by American drugmaker Pfizer and Germany's BioNTech. Both vaccines require giving people two shots.

The EU has ordered 80 million doses of the Moderna vaccine with an option for a further 80 million. The bloc also has committed to buying 300 million doses of the Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine.

Commissioner for Health and Food Safety Stella Kyriakides said that the vaccine authorization "will ensure that 460 million doses will be rolled out with increasing speed in the EU, and more will come. Member States have to ensure that the pace of vaccinations follows suit."

German Health Minister Jens Spahn — who has in the past been critical of the slow pace of the EMA — said he expected the Moderna vaccine to begin rolling out to EU nations next week. Germany would get 2 million doses in the first quarter and 50 million in all of 2021, Spahn told reporters in Berlin. "The problem is the shortage of production capacity with global demand".

Both Moderna's and Pfizer-BioNTech's shots are mRNA vaccines, made with a groundbreaking tech. They don't contain any coronaviruses – meaning they cannot cause infection. Instead, they use a piece of genetic code that trains the immune system to recognise the spike protein on the surface of the virus, ready to attack if the real thing comes along.



600 mn doses this year

Early results of large, still unfinished studies show both the Moderna and the Pfizer-BioNTech vaccines appear safe and strongly protective, although Moderna's is easier to handle since it doesn't need to be stored at ultra-frozen temperatures. The EU agency gave the green light to use the Moderna vaccine on people age 18 year and above. The United States, Canada and Israel have already approved use of the Moderna vaccine. Moderna said Monday that it is increasing its estimate for global vaccine production in 2021 from 500 to 600 million doses. The firm said it is "continuing to invest and add staff to build up to potentially 1 billion doses for 2021."

94.1% efficacy

Moderna's jab was found to be 94.1% effective in preventing Covid-19 compared to a placebo in a clinical trial of 30,400 people, performing slightly better in younger adults compared to the elderly.

The EU officially began giving out Pfizer-BioNTech vaccination shots on Dec. 27, but the speed of each nation's inoculation program has varied widely. France vaccinated around 500 people in the first week, while Germany vaccinated 200,000. The Dutch were only beginning to give out vaccine shots Wednesday, the last EU nation to start doing so.

Record global deaths

The EU announcement on the vaccine came as more than 15,700 Covid-19 deaths around the world were registered in the past 24 hours, according to a count by AFP.

China rushes to stamp out northern outbreak

BEIJING

BEIJING: Travel has been restricted in a northern Chinese city of 11 million as authorities Wednesday moved to snuff out a Covid-19 cluster, while health officials in another province detected a new virus strain found in South Africa.

Ten major highways leading into the city of Shijiazhuang, around 300 kilometres (200 miles) south of Beijing, have been closed and a bus terminus was also shut in an attempt to prevent the virus spreading beyond the city in Hebei province.

There have been 117 cases in the city -- including at least 63 more reported Wednesday -- 78 of which were asymptomatic, prompting mass testing across the affected area.

The same day, health authorities in southern Guangdong province reported a case involving a mutant virus strain found in South Africa.

The strain detected in China was isolated from a swab of a South African pilot who had entered the province in December and tested positive for Covid-19, said the Guangdong Provincial Center for Disease Control and Prevention.

Its announcement comes days after China confirmed its first case of a new coronavirus variant detected in Britain, prompting widespread concern as both strains are said to be more infectious.

Unlike much of the world, China has largely brought the virus under control through strict lockdowns and travel restrictions.

But there have been a series of local outbreaks in recent weeks, prompting mass testing and targeted lockdowns.

The village of Xiaoguozhuang within the city boundary has been classified as a "high risk" district and sealed off.

Health authorities said all 40,000 residents in that district have been tested for the virus.

State TV showed villagers being tested by staff in full hazmat suits and protective wear, with roadblocks staffed by police and medical workers.

AMERICAN AIRLINES BANS EMOTIONAL-SUPPORT ANIMALS

American Airlines is banning emotional-support animals in a move that will force most owners to pay extra if they want their pets to travel with them. The airline said Tuesday that it will allow animals in the cabin free of charge only if they are trained service dogs. The change takes effect Monday, although passengers who already bought tickets can fly with a companion animal until Feb. 1. The move follows a similar decision by Alaska Airlines and is likely to be copied by other carriers.

ENVIRONMENT

Norway has become the first country in the world where electric cars account for more than half of new registrations, as per figures published by an industry group. Despite the pandemic delaying the release of several new models, electric vehicles accounted for 54.3% of the new car market last year, up from 42.4% a year earlier, as per Opplysningsradet for Veitrafikken (OFV, "Information Council for Road Traffic"). In Dec, electric car sales set a monthly record in Norway accounting for 66.7% of new sales, the numbers boosted by the arrival of new models, OFV said. "This is an extremely positive trend", Christina Bu, head of an industry association.

Collapse in marine species

RESEARCH

Populations of marine molluscs have collapsed in recent decades in parts of the eastern Mediterranean as warming waters have made conditions unsuitable for native species, new research showed. The waters off the coast of Israel -- among the hottest in the Mediterranean -- have already warmed 3°C within four decades, with water temperatures regularly topping 30°C in summer. An international team of researchers, writing in Proceedings of Royal Society B, probed the effect these warmer waters was having on local populations of marine molluscs, as well as the arrival of invasive species from the Red Sea via the Suez Canal.

GENETIC ANOMALY

Rare white Bengal tiger cub to be raised by humans in Nicaragua

CONSERVATION

MASAYA: A rare white tiger, named "Nieve" (snow in Spanish) was born at the Nicaragua zoo, and is being raised by humans after its mother rejected it, the director of the zoo said.

Nieve came into the world a week ago, weighing just under a kilogramme at birth, said director Eduardo Sacasa.

Conservation group WWF describes white tigers as "a genetic anomaly", with none known to exist in the wild. There are dozens in captivity.

White tigers are Bengal tigers whose parents carry a recessive gene, according to The Wildcat Sanctuary in Minnesota which helps and studies felines. They are not albinos or a separate species.

Some parks and zoos inbreed white tigers, as white cubs draw more visitors, though this is often at the cost of malformations and other genetic problems, states the sanctuary website.

The Nicaragua zoo said Nieve was the first-ever white tiger born in the country, to a pair of yellow-and-black-coloured Bengals. The cub's mother, rescued after she was abandoned by a circus, had inherited the rare gene from her grandfather, who was white.

Nieve was taken away from her mother, who rejected her, and is being bottle-fed by Sacasa's wife, Marina Arguello, who helps manage the zoo of some 700 animals and a rescue centre.

Arguello whispers sweet nothings into the tiny cub's ear while it suckles, and pats it lighty on the back afterwards.

Baby turtles crawl to freedom

WILDLIFE

Newly hatched, dozens of baby turtles flipped and flopped their way down a beach towards the crashing waves of the Indian Ocean, under the watchful gaze of conservationists at an Indonesian national park. Small enough to fit into the palm of a hand, some ended up on their backs, wriggling their tiny flippers helplessly as they tried to get back on track. But the conservationists did not interfere, as they wanted the creatures to "map" their surroundings and then return to lay eggs decades later. "Sea turtles mature at 25 years old, so if they're released today, we'll probably meet them again 25 years from now," said Ardhini Estu Wardana, a forest ranger at Meru Betiri National Park.

Charlie Hebdo attack

Masked gunmen armed with AK-47s stormed the offices of French satirical news magazine, Charlie Hebdo, on this day in 2015 in a terror attack that left 12 people dead

THE TARGET

The weekly magazine has published cartoons of the Muslim Prophet Muhammad and hence was the target of the attack. The editor of the paper was also killed in the attack

SUSPECTS ESCAPE

The suspects shot dead one of the officers on the street as they fled — escaping first in a black Citroen that they abandoned after a crash, and then in a sedan they carjacked from a bystander

RISE IN DEATH TOLL

The attacks continued for two more days, taking the death toll to 17. On Day-2, two people were shot dead by a lone gunman and on January 9, the police closed in on the suspects

Happy feet

If you've ever found yourself nervous about shaking a leg, Samyuktha Hegde has some advice for you. The actor, whose Instagram is full of videos of her having a blast as she dances her heart out, shared a story on the platform to say that the best part about freestyling is having fun, no matter what one does or how they move. "Its the feeling not the moves" she said. Wise words indeed!

Biker chic

Samyukta Hornad, on the other hand, took to Instagram to share a series of photos of her with different bikes. The caption carried a single heart emoji and needless to say, the photos didn't need any words. Her love for bikes seems to be evident, because, after all, why should boys have all the fun?

Dancer-actor Rukmini Vijayakumar's new short film throws light on importance of Ayurveda, balance and more

MONIKA MONALISA

If there's one theme that seems central to Rukmini Vijayakumar's life right now, it has got to be balance. Her latest dance short movie is called Nadi: The balance of elements. The film speaks about Ayurveda and how it helps bring balance in one's life. Though she is not a stringent follower of Ayurveda, it does play an important role in Rukmini's life. "I cannot say I follow yoga but not Ayurveda. In India, the philosophies are interconnected at the end of the day. I have grown up with Ayurvedic medicines like churnams, turmeric and tulsi," says Rukmini, adding that she prefers letting her body heal by itself instead of relying on medicines. "If I get a cut, I apply turmeric before anything else."

Rukmini, a Bharatanatyam dancer, says she enjoys telling stories through movement. "I feel I can articulate better with dance," adds the artistic director of Raadha Kalpa Dance Company, who is also the director of Lshva, a creative space for artistes. But her artistic prowess doesn't end there – Rukmini also experiments with Indian contemporary dance. Both forms, however, have challenges but that's what helps her grow. "I think everything is hard. Nothing can be accomplished without planning or putting in some work. Imagine what would life be without challenges," says Rukmini, whose latest performance, called Ishwara, will be happening on Jan. 8 and 9 at Bangalore International Centre.

The role played by dance in her life is known to many but Rukmini gives credit to her mother, Vijayalakshmi Vijayakumar, to keep her going in this field. "There was a time when I didn't want to go for my classes or go outside to play like my brother. But my mother persuaded me to continue and stay in this form, which I am grateful for," says Rukmini, adding she is thankful that her parents gave her the choice to take up dance as a career.

Although she started her training in dance quite young, she was never sure if she wanted to take up dance professionally. But after she took a year off after her high school, she got the clarity she needed.

Apart from her training in Bharatanatyam, she also holds a Bachelor's in Fine Arts from the Boston Conservatory in Ballet and Modern Dance. She has also studied acting at the New York Film Academy, and trained under the guidance of actor-director Prakash Belawadi.

Rukmini has been a part of movies like Bajarangi starring Shiva Rajkumar and Kochadaiyaan starring Rajinikanth. Selective about the projects she chooses, she is soon going to be seen in the upcoming Kannada movie Dasara, directed by Arvind Sastry, starring Sathish Ninasam and Sharmiela Mandre.

'CLOSE' CALL

Popular restaurants Caperberry and Fava bid goodbye to the city after attracting food lovers for a decade

VIDYA IYENGAR

The year 2020 was one of major change for many industries. In the F&B sector, reinvention has been the buzz word everywhere but many restaurants have also closed shop. Joining them are Caperberry, Fava, and Fava Bistro in Koramangala, run by chef Abhijit Saha and co-founder Shruti Shibulal. The restaurants have been present in the city for more than a decade. According to Saha, the plans for closure were brewing prior to the pandemic, which only hastened it. "I was thinking of exiting the business for a while now. Post the lockdown, when we re-opened, we hardly had any footfall in June and July. With high overheads and a large team (over 85 in total), we decided to move on," says Saha. He has now taken up the role of consultant for the Kempegowda International Airport, where he will be involved with food and beverages for the lounges, which is scheduled to open shortly. "Eating habits have changed in the pandemic with a lot of attention being focused on healthy eating. So the kitchens and menus are being designed accordingly," he says.

On Wednesday, Saha decided to make the announcement public, something he felt he owed to long-time patrons. "It was not an easy decision but we had to take a call due to unavoidable circumstances. We have thoroughly enjoyed the 12-year journey with all its ups and downs and hopefully have been able to create some great memories and experiences for our patrons and the city of Bengaluru," he wrote on social media.

Shibulal, the daughter of SD Shibulal, former CEO of Infosys, had forayed into the fine-dining business after being introduced to Saha in 2008, who was then the executive chef at the Park Hotels, Bangalore. While Caperberry opened in March 2009, and was touted as one of the city's first restaurants to experiment with molecular gastronomy, the partners opened Mediterranean restaurant Fava in 2010.

'URA wasn't interested in making concession to Western market'

Earlier when I translated some of his short stories and published them as Stallion of the Sun and Other Stories, URA not only knew, he was encouraging without being involved

Narayan Hegde, translator

Narayan Hegde, who has translated UR Ananthamurthy's Avasthe, tells CE that translating is never spontaneous, never perfect, and involves more than one draft

VIDYA IYENGAR

UR Ananthamurthy's Avasthe may have been penned 42 years ago but it is still as relevant today. So it's no surprise that its translation into English continues to have a tour de force. Narayan Hegde, who started translating the novel in 2018, says, "After the death of URA, I had talked about the need to bring out this English translation with his daughter Anuradha and son-in-law Vivek Shanbhag. However, earlier when I translated some of his short stories and published them as Stallion of the Sun and Other Stories, URA not only knew, but was encouraging too, without being involved."

Published by HarperCollins India, Avasthe, which is the third novel in a trilogy, chronicles the social and political changes that took place after Independence. While the other two books in the trilogy are available in English, this is the first time this one has been translated into English. A professor emeritus of English at State University of New York, Hegde's association with URA goes back to his student days in Maharaja's College in Mysuru where he was a young lecturer. "I have followed his evolution as an author and an intellectual, while, at various stages of my life, he has taken a personal interest as well," he recalls.

Hegde is a translator who has worked on several books, including Annayya's Anthropology by A K Ramanujan. He admits that translating from Kannada is a painstakingly slow process. But his familiarity with much of the milieu of Ananthamurthy's works was an advantage. "Having grown up in rural Malenadu, the culture-specific customs, vocabulary and the socio-political contexts of his fiction are known to me. It (translation) is never spontaneous, never perfect, involves more than one draft and, sometimes, outside readers," he says, adding that as of now, he is not aware of any reaction from the family of URA. "I hope they are pleased. Vivek Shanbhag, who is a fine writer, has been closely involved in all phases of publishing this translation," he says.

Apart from the usual challenges, translating Ananthamurthy's fiction, Hegde says, presents some unique challenges stemming from the fact that he was not interested in making concession to a dominant Western literary market or the reader. "What Ananthamurthy has said is worth considering – 'I can be authentic as a writer only if I don't intend to be translated.' The non-linearity of narration in much of his fiction can be baffling for an uninitiated reader," he explains.

FIT BIT

EKA PADA VIPARITA DANDASANA II

(ONE-LEGGED INVERTED STAFF 2 POSE)

In Sanskrit, 'eka' means 'one', 'pada' means 'leg' or 'foot', 'viparita' means 'reversed' or 'inverted', 'danda' means 'staff' or 'rod,' and 'asana' means 'pose'. It is a strong and advanced backbend. The pose is an advanced movement of Dwi Pada Viparita Dandasana. It takes disciplined practise to learn and is one of the most beautiful postures in yoga. Practitioners of Iyengar yoga, Ashtanga yoga, power and others do this posture. The stillness of mind is cultivated in this pose as you are called to be equanimous in doing this challenging and exhilarating backbend.

STEPS

- Come into Dwi Pada Viparita Dandasana. Then move your feet towards the head.
- Release the fingers, and rest the palms on the floor.
- Exhale, raise your head off the floor, extend the neck towards the legs and bring right leg near to the hands.
- Catch the right ankle with both hands and keep the entire foot on the floor.
- When the grip on the ankle is firm, exhale and lift the left leg up, stretching the shoulders up and extending the spine. Keep the leg up taut at the knee.
- Stay in this position for 10 to 15 seconds. Due to the contraction of the abdominal muscles, breathing will be fast.
- Bring the left leg down to the floor. Release the right ankle and catch the left.
- Repeat the pose by raising the right leg up vertically. Stay in the pose for the same length of time. Then lower the leg.
- Release the ankle and with an exhalation swing both the legs up to Salamba Sirsasana I.
- Then lower them to the floor and relax.
- Now do Urdhva Dhanurasana and stand up in Tadasana.

BENEFITS

- Stretches the spine and improves flexibility.
- Stretches wrists, arms, abdomen and back.
- Regular practice of this asana opens up the chest.
- Helps improve lung capacity and digestion.
- Helps pituitary and thyroid function.
- Strengthens legs, arm, buttocks, back, chest, shoulders and wrists.
- Helps relieve backache and asthma.
- Helps reduce stress and stimulates thinking.
- Relieves mild anxiety and depression.
- The abdominal muscles are exercised and the spine is toned. As the bending is more strenuous, the effect is correspondingly greater.
- Best for asthma and legs.

LIMITATIONS

- Those with spinal nerve damage and disc problems, chronic shoulder dislocations, unmanaged high blood pressure, must avoid this.
- Pregnant women and those who bleed intensely during menstruation must avoid this
- People with retina problems must avoid this.

COLD FIX

Here are five reasons that make winter in B'luru the best time to schedule a surgery

DR. MANAS RANJAN TRIPATHY

There's a lot to consider while scheduling a surgical procedure, like the post surgical period and ideal conditions that would help in quick recovery. The effects of weather on surgical wound healing, overall health and how the human body responds to change in temperature, are the major factors to keep in mind. Winter can be harsh on your skin and might make certain medical conditions difficult but it can also be a great time to schedule a surgical procedure because of the various benefits it comes with. Especially in cities like Bengaluru where winters are moderate, months of December, January and February are the most ideal time to schedule your surgery. Here are a few reasons why Bengaluru winter is the most ideal time to schedule surgeries:

Surgical scars and wounds heal more quickly

During summer, surgical wounds are more likely to heal slower as compared to winter, because the overexposure to the sun's rays affects the healing rate of surgical wounds and surgical sites.

Better protection to post-surgical scars

In winter, we tend to keep our bodies warm by adding multiple layers of clothes. Similarly, this also works well for surgical incisions. The dressing done for the surgical wounds acts as insulation during winter without making us feel hot, thus providing better protection to the post-surgical scars.

Reduction in disease-carrying organisms

Disease carrying organisms like mosquitos and flies can often breed on open and active wounds or surgical sites, which may lead to complications such as malaria, trypanosomiasis and bilharzia. In winter, these organisms tend to disappear due to cold winds and the chilly weather, which also hinders their breeding.

Less chances of infection

In summer, the climate is so hot and humid that it can considerably increase the chances of infection of the surgical site. Incessant sweating in the summer causes the sogging of the surgical wound, resulting in infection. Some drugs that are prescribed for post surgical care can produce hot flashes and they cannot be used during summer. Hence, in winter these complications reduce considerably and accelerate the recovery period.

Winter can lower inflammation

The cold weather acts as a catalyst during the first two days after surgery because the cold can aid in relieving discomfort as well as in reducing swelling and bruising. The cold shrinks the blood vessels, some of which are incised during surgery. By decreasing the blood flow through these vessels, swelling and bruising can be minimised. Hence, the inflammation can be reduced in the post surgical period along with proper care.

WORKING IT OUT

Are you using your laptop without a proper work setup? Keep these tips in mind for better posture as you clock in your office hours from home

AKSHATA RAO

FOR many, work from home has become the new normal. Instead of a proper work set up with desks and chairs meant for long working hours, most have to choose between beds, sofas, chairs without much support, and smaller work spaces that do not encourage much movement. This change can have a devastating impact on our bodies in the long run, especially for older employees and those who have pre-existing back and neck problems.

The bigger culprits are the laptops we use for eight hours or more a day. It makes us prone to neck and back issues that tend to aggravate over a period of time. Here are some tips for you to protect your neck and back if you are working without a desk:

Switch to a standing desk

Standing desks helps maintain a good posture and you are less likely to slouch while using them. This should be coupled with comfortable shoes. Never work while sitting on a sofa, as it encourages you to slump, to round your shoulders and push the head forward – which strains your neck and upper back muscles.

Efficient work set-up

If you use a laptop, it is better to get a separate keyboard and mouse. If you are working on a regular dining chair, use a cushion on the seat, and ensure your feet are touching the floor. If not, use a small stool or box under your feet to avoid straining your legs. Use a small pillow for your lower back and rest your elbows on the table/armrest.

Don't tilt forward

Move your eyes rather than tilting your head forward towards the screen.

Use a headset

If you need to hold your phone to your ear, hold it with your left hand and take notes with your dominant hand. But never use your shoulder to support the phone while talking.

Get moving

Move every 30 minutes – get some fresh air, move your shoulders and neck, or run up and down the stairs. Activate and move those muscles and this will prevent any strain you might be developing.

Take stretch breaks

To loosen up those muscles that you might unconsciously be tensing up, stretch your neck, back and even leg muscles.

Hydrate

This encourages you to get up more frequently to either get a refill or use the washroom.

(The author is the Rehabilitation Lead, Nightingales Home Health Services)

Take care

If you are experiencing any symptoms like shoulder strain, neck pain, hip pain, stiffness in your low back, or headaches after long hours of working, you must consult a physiotherapist. They are movement specialists who help identify the structure causing the pain and address the issue with a customised therapy plan. If you are hesitant to step out for a consultation, opt for a home physiotherapy treatment to help you with your posture-related ailments.

Here are some common issues women may face between the ages of 45 and 60

MIDDLE-AGED AND MINDFUL

DR PRATHIMA REDDY

Middle age is defined as the period of life between the ages of 45 and 60 years, when one is no longer young, but not yet old. It is expected that in the next decade, 15 per cent of India's population would be over the age of 40. This is almost 20 million people who would have specific healthcare needs in this age group. So what are the medical health issues that are more common in middle-aged women?

Diabetes and hypertension

The incidence of these two diseases which were previously thought to be more common in males is increasing in women as well, especially more in the urban areas compared to the rural areas. Both these diseases, if discovered late or left untreated, can have far reaching consequences. It is known that the incidence of heart attack in women with diabetes is 44 per cent more than men and the incidence of stroke is 27 per cent more than men. Kidney disease is also higher in adults with the above diseases.

Obesity

Obesity, especially in the urban areas, is a rapidly growing problem. Three per cent of Indians are obese and 25 per cent are overweight. The factors that have contributed to this are better incomes, lack of exercise, increased consumption of high calorific foods and junk food. Obesity increases the risk of heart disease, diabetes, stroke and osteoporosis, and worsens arthritis.

Menopause

The age of menopause in Indian women is between 46-48 years. Women going through it can suffer from hot flushes, weight gain, depression and osteoporosis. The incidence of some female cancers also increases after menopause.

Cancer

The incidence of female cancers, especially of breast, cervix and ovary, is higher after the age of 40. Breast cancer is now the most common cancer in Indian women surpassing cervical cancer.

Depression

Depression occurs more commonly in women than men. It has far reaching effects if not recognised and treated early. Changes in the hormone levels especially before a period, after delivery and during menopause can increase the risk of depression. This is apart from the genetic and environmental factors that contribute to it.

WHAT CAN WOMEN DO TO REMAIN HEALTHY?

Eat at least 5 portions of fruit and vegetables per day, excluding potatoes, sweet potatoes, cassava and other starchy roots

Eat a healthy diet comprising fruit, vegetables, legumes, nuts and whole grains.

Unsaturated fats found in fish, avocado, nuts, sunflower, canola and olive oil are preferable to saturated fats found in meat, butter, palm and coconut oil, cream cheese, ghee and lard

Less than 5 gm of salt (equivalent to about one teaspoon) per day should be used

Regular exercise (in addition of a healthy diet) and maintaining a healthy weight (check your BMI) will help cut down risk of diabetes, hypertension, heart disease, stroke, obesity, osteoporosis and risk of fractures and possibly reduce the risk of certain cancers like breast cancer and colon cancer.

Screen for breast and cervical cancer regularly

Quitting smoking, chewing of tobacco, paan or gutka, cutting down on alcohol will go a long way in reducing the risk or cancer and lung disease

FREQUENT TRAVEL MAKES YOU 7% HAPPIER THAN OTHERS

A study, published in journal Tourism Analysis, shows that participants who regularly travel at least 120 km away from home reported being about 7 per cent happier when asked about their overall well-being than those who reported traveling rarely. "While things like work, family life and friends play a bigger role in overall reports of well-being, the accumulation of travel experiences does appear to have a small yet noticeable effect on self-reported life satisfaction," said Chun-Chu (Bamboo) Chen, Assistant Professor at Washington State University.

SOULFUL

Can any problem be solved in isolation?

Why does the mind try to solve each problem as though it was unrelated to other problems? The other day somebody asked, what about starvation, as though by itself, it is the result of human relationship, of human conditioning, of human education, of this constant division between people, both Economic, social, personal. So to understand this very, very deeply and so completely, we must ask, why do we do this? I do not know if you have asked that question, ever. And if you do, if you are at all serious you must have asked it, if you are mature, not in age, maturity does not mean age, you can be mature when you are twenty both psychologically, inwardly, so any person who is serious and mature, must have asked this question: why the human mind, the brain always divides, me and mine, you and yours, we and they, on one side, god, religion and politics, on the other side, and so on, this constant division, and trying to solve each problem by itself, isolated, why? No, don't answer me please, because I don't want to break it up, you can ask at the end of the talk if you have the patience, and if you don't mind allowing me to talk for twenty or thirty or forty minutes, first, I hope you don't mind.

In asking that question we have to also find out, what is the function of thought? What is the meaning, substance, structure of thought, because it may be thought that divides, and to find an answer through thought, through reason, obviously must separate each problem and try to find an answer for itself. We are asking why the human brain and the mind, the totality of one's being why we are always inclined to solve our issues separately, as though it was unrelated. They want a physical revolution to upset the social order in order to bring about a better order and they forget all the implications of physical revolution. Dictatorship, either of a group or a bureaucracy and so on and they forget the whole psychological nature of man. So one has to ask this question, why? And in asking the question, what is the response? Is it the response of thought or is it the response of understanding the totality of this immense, vast, structure of human life? You're following? Am I making my question clear, if not I will go into it?

I want to find out why this division exists. We went into it the other day as the observer and the observed, let's forget that, put that aside and approach it differently. Does thought create this division, and if we find thought does, and thought tries to find an answer to a particular problem, it is still a problem separated from other problems. Are we going together? No, don't, please, agree with me, it's not a question of agreement, it's a question of seeing for yourself the truth of it, or the falseness of it, not accepting - and if I may add here under no circumstances accept what the speaker says at any time, with regard to what we are talking about, not with regard to your doing something or other outside the tent. There is no authority, at least when we are talking together about these matters, with me, neither you have the authority nor the speaker, we are both of us investigating, looking, observing, learning, therefore there is no question of agreement or disagreement.

Akshay Kumar's starrer Bachchan Pandey goes on floors

CE FEATURES

BACHCHAN Pandey, starring Akshay Kumar, began production on Wednesday, the makers have announced.

Producer Sajid Nadiadwala, along with the cast and crew of his upcoming action-comedy, travelled to the city last week. The film also stars Kriti Sanon, Pankaj Tripathi, and Arshad Warsi.

"Straight from the Muhurat Shot of #SajidNadiadwala's #BachchanPandey," the post shared on the official Twitter handle read.

Bachchan Pandey, directed by Farhad Samji of Housefull 4 fame, also stars Jacqueline Fernandez and Prateik Babbar.

The film will see Kumar playing a gangster, who aspires to be an actor; Sanon as a journalist, who wishes to be a director and Warsi as a struggling actor.

The makers are yet to reveal the character details of other cast members. Bachchan Pandey is scheduled to be released this year.

SUDEEP TO HEADLINE ANUP BHANDARI'S ASHWATTHAMA?

The two are currently working on Phantom, and the director is simultaneously fine-tuning the final draft of the contemporary story around the mythological figure; buzz is that they may join hands for another subject

A SHARADHAA

ANUP Bhandari, who is currently shooting for Sudeep-starrer Phantom, is simultaneously working on his next ambitious project, Ashwatthama. The director is said to be ready with the script, and he is working on the final draft now. An announcement about this project was made in September 2020, and the release of the poster and other details by Sudeep on his Twitter handle created a lot of buzz at that time. Since then, there have been speculations about who is going to headline Ashwatthama. Now, according to a source, it will be none other than Sudeep himself. "The Phantom hero is all set to bring the character of Ashwatthama alive for Anup Bhandari's next, which is set in a contemporary fictional universe," adds the source.

Anup Bhandari

Anup Bhandari had earlier told CE that he had discussed the idea with Sudeep, and that he was excited about the storyline. There is already a lot of hype surrounding the duo's Phantom, which is now in the last phase of the shooting process. Anup Bhandari, who is keen to present the mythological character in today's time, is keen to take it forward as a universal franchise.

Though it is almost certain that Sudeep will play Ashwatthama, it is not known yet whether it will be his next project. The actor has almost through with the shoot for Phantom, but his future plans have not been revealed. Meanwhile, he also gets ready to host Bigg Boss Season 8, although an announcement is yet to be made, and there are talks about him working on his next directorial project as well.

Meanwhile, Sudeep's Kotigobba 3, directed by Shiva Karthik, is also getting ready for release, and it is expected to see an April rush along with Puneeth Rajkumar's Yuvarathnaa and Darshan's Roberrt.

'ADHEERA IS THE CRAZIEST ROLE I HAVE PLAYED SO FAR'

CE FEATURES

SANJAY Dutt is all excited about KGF Chapter 2. The film marks the Kannada debut of the Bollywood star. As fans await the release of the teaser on January 8, Sanjay Dutt opens about his role Adheera, his experience working with Prashanth Neel, and Kannada star Yash, the action sequences, and more.

Give us some details about your character in KGF Chapter 2.

Adheera is one of the craziest characters I have played so far. Inspired by Vikings, he is fearless, powerful, and ruthless. There was a lot of physical preparation required to become Adheera, about 1.5 hours to do the make-up to get the look, and a lot of prep mentally to get into the skin of the character. This role required a lot from me.

How was your experience working with Prashanth Neel?

Prashanth is a very humble guy. It was a very smooth sailing experience to shoot with him. This was my first time working with him and I had all the comfort from him — it felt like I was always a part of this KGF universe. I have a great rapport with him now. We shared a lot of anecdotes with each other. His work style is different and his direction helped me learn a lot.

What kind of action and fight sequences can be expected between you and Yash?

KGF Chapter 2 is high on action. The film is a sequel of KGF Chapter 1, so you can expect all that and more. Yash and I have a face-off, obviously, which was a lot of fun. A lot of props were involved and the sequences are choreographed beautifully. Other than that, I want the audiences to enjoy the action in the film without saying too much.

What was your first reaction after the project was offered to you?

It is after a long time that such a role was offered to me. So I got pumped and excited for it. The character is strong, and it was an immediate yes from me!

How different is this character from all the characters you've played before?

For me, the script and storyline are what make the character. This one, in particular, is an insanely charged and ruthless character. This is one of my favorite characters in terms of edginess and rawness.

Adil Hussain wraps up Foot Prints on Water

CE FEATURES

Actor Adil Hussain has finished shooting for his forthcoming film, Foot Prints on Water, directed by debutante Nathalia Syam. The actor plays an illegal immigrant living in the United Kingdom in the film, backed by Mohaan Nadaar.

Hussain took to Instagram and shared a selfie from the film sets in Clent Hills near Birmingham, UK on Tuesday night. The 57-year-old actor said he felt relieved after completing work on the film with fantastic co-stars Nimisha Sajayan, Lena Kumar, and Antonio Aakeel.

"A feeling of relief of finishing the shoot of #FootprintsOnWater. Absolutely Loved being directed by @nathalia_syam, being captured by National Award Winner brilliant cinematographer @alagappan_cinematographer," Hussain wrote, adding he hopes to leave for India on Friday.

The actor began shooting for the film, written by Neetha Syam, last month. Hussain was recently seen in Prakash Jha's drama feature Pareeksha, which released on ZEE5.

Richa's Madam Chief Minister trailer out

CE FEATURES

THE trailer for Richa Chadha-starrer Madam Chief Minister is out. Directed by Subhash Kapoor, the film follows a female leader's rise in the world of politics. Richa essays a Dalit woman from a village who's mentored by Masterji (Saurabh Shukla). Taking aim at the entrenched caste system and patriarchy in her state, she builds her party from a grassroots level. But this alerts her rivals, who strive to maintain the status quo at all costs

"In this state, the person who builds metros loses," the main antagonist, played by Shubhrajyoti, says in the trailer. "And the one who builds a temple wins."
